SOUNDS A PREPAREDNESS CALL

TRAINING IS URGED

In Address To 1,000 Camp Meade Students President Harding Issues Call For Nation to Be Ready Should An Emergency Arise.

HOPES TO SEE TIME WHEN 110,000 TRAIN

Says U. S. Concerned Only With Peace But Military Training Necessary to Preserve Continuity of American Republic and Ideals.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Harding in an address here today to citizen soldiers from Camp Mead, Md., declared he favored military training for more than 100,000 civilians annually, not for any prospective aggressive warfare, but to preserve peace.

After reviewing the civilian troops on the Ellipse adjacent to the white house grounds, the president called attention to the fact that 28,000 civilians were afforded training this summer, compared with 11,000 last year. The president said the review had given him new confidence, but added that there was not a thought in America for armed warfare, the nation being concerned only in preserving peace of the world.

In the Camp Mead contingent were 1,000 young men, constituting infantry, medical, artillery and cavalry units from the district of Columbia, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania who have been in training for three weeks. Declaring that boys had been benefited by the camps' discipline, the president asserted that "all America might well benefit by learning a little more impressively the obligations of the citizen to his country."

The president said:

I could not allow the opportunity to pass without a word of felicitation and congratulation. You have afforded us this morning those who were in review and those who carried on the review a most impressive and reassuring spectacle. You are citizens of a republic wholly devoted to peace. There is not a thought in America of armed warfare. There is not a design on the part of your country to carry an armed campaign to any direction.

Concerned Only With Peace.

"We are concerned with peace and the security of peace and I like to think that this great republic, reducing its regular army in accordance with its ideals, can have the assurance that comes to it with such a spectacle as you have given us this morning, I congratulate you with all my heart.

"You will be interested to know that the volunteer citizens' training movement last year enlisted about 11,000 recruits. This year there were 28,000 of you in the various camps. If I could have my wish, this number would increase until more than 100,000 were annually studying and preparing for armed service, not that we expect to be called upon for such service, but solely for national defense and the preservation of the government under which we all live.

"There is new assurance; there is new confidence; there is new belief in the perpetuity of this American republic when one can stand as I have stood this morning and note such a company of ready volunteer defenders as you have shown us in this review."

PROBE TO PLACE BLAME FOR WRECK

Michigan Central Express Is Hurled Into Ditch and Two Lives Lost.

Rail Officials Say Disaster Caused By Pulling of 37 Spikes.

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Careful investigation was in progress today in an effort to determine whether the "million dollar express" of the Michigan Central railroad was wrecked yesterday near Gary, Ind., as the result of a plot or if a detective locomotive was responsible for the crash. Two were killed and two seriously hurt.

Officials of the railroad said today that thirty-seven spikes had been pulled from the inside of one of the rails, thus allowing the track to spread and throw the train into the ditch. A reward of $1,000 was issued for the arrest and conviction of the wreckers.

The train was speeding at sixty miles an hour when the engine left the track. Cars piled up in a huge pyramid of reckage. The engineer and fireman were killed.

FASHION EXPERT DEAD.

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Mrs. B. Armstrong Whitney, fashion expert and a former newspaper woman of this city, is dead in Paris, according to a cablegram received here today. Mrs. Whitney was decorated by French government for her work during the war. She was the widow of Dr. C. A. Whitney of New York.

Babe Left On Doorstep Finds Home But Loses Nice Fortune

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Robert Williams Ross, known as the "mystery orphan," who on Friday was an heir to more than $50,000, and who was legally pronounced a foundling on Saturday, today was speeding toward his real family in the east.

Ten years ago, the child was left on the doorstep of the Guardian Angel's home at Joliet, that his birth might be concealed. Later his mother revealed the secret to her family while on her death bed, and a search for the boy which has continued for nine years in all parts of the United States, was begun.

When members of the family got in touch with the guardian home, they were told the boy had been sent to St. Vincent's orphanage in Chicago, where it was elarned he had been adopted by Mrs. Ethel Hand and taken to Californit, where he was later adopted by Mrs. Hand's parents in San Francisco, Police Lieut. William Ross and Mrs. Ross.

Urged by their promise to the dying mother, members of the child's family, after a court battle, won their contention that the adoption in California was a void as the boy had been illegally removed from Illinois. Then the child was returned to Chicago and returned to the custody of the asylum under a court ruling, made Saturday, which also deprived him of his status as sole heir to the $50,000 estate of his foster parents.

The asylum then sent him back to his mother's family.

Autoists Killed In Crossing Smashup

NEWARK, Ohio, Aug. 21.—Bernard Ashcraft, 37, and Jacob Farrell, 38, were instantly killed when their automobile was struck by a fast Pennsylvania train at Montgomery crossing, east of this city early today. The machine was torn to pieces.

FRUIT GROWERS ARE AFTER CARS

Five Slates Send Envoys East to Urge Transportation Be Provided.

(International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—With G. H. Hecke director of the California state department of agriculture, enroute to Washington to lay before the interstate commerce commission the necessity of quick action to save the fruit and vegetable crops of the west by prompt return from the east of all available refrigerator cars five other states were expected to send similar representatives to the national capital.

Governor Stephens telegraphed the executives of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and Colorado urging that they send some one to Washington to aid in the fight to secure an adequate car supply for movement of the crops of the west. Some 40,000 cars will be needed with only 10,000 in sight on the basis of the present rate of return.

BILL NOT READY FOR COMMITTEE

Printers Unable to Get Tariff Measure In Shape Because of Changes.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—So numerous were the changes made in the administration tariff bill during its stormy course through the senate that the experts and government printing offices, working jointly, and overtime, were unable to get out a new print over Sunday with the result that the sending of the meas ure to conference was delayed.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, said today he expected the reprinted bill to be ready tomorrow for house action. In that event, he added, it would be sent to conference under a special rule. The conferees then would begin work late tomorrow or Wednesday.

The house, expecting the tarig to be sent to conference, had a quorum today for the first time since reassembling last week. The roll call showed 243 members present, or 28 more than a working quorum.

There was scattering handclapping on the republican side as a clerk from the senate announced the passage of the measure by that body.

Poincare Assails British Attitude

PARIS, Aug. 21. — Premier Poincare's speech at Bar Le Duc, in which he declared that France will find a way to make Germany pay for her war crimes, was received enthusiastically by the press today.

In attacking the British attitude, the premier said:

"It seems that, little by little France is denied almost the right to have a French policy at all.'

Indicates Pershing To Retire From Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The house this afternoon passed a bill making Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord eligible to succeed General Pershing as chief of staff of the army for a four year term.

The measure was requested by Secretary of War Weeks and gives credence to reports that General Pershing contemplates retirement.

MAY BURY HATCHET

Talk of Political and Economic Accord Between Germany and France Takes Favorable Turn With French Public and May Be Brought About.

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The possibility of a direct and friendly understanding between Germany and France which would include close economic collaboration was given serious consideration for the first time today in commercial and unofficial circles. Nearly all the important newspapers discussed the suggestion that France seek justice in the reparations crisis through a rapprochement with Germany. The idea, originally launched by German industrialists, has been taken up now in French business channels.

While it is unofficially stated that the French government has received no proposals from Germany for an accord, well informed circles say that if such evidences were made the French officials might listen to them and even accept them on certain conditions. The talk of an understanding has been current on the Paris bourse recently and has been accentuated by the departure of the reparation mission for Berlin. The Petit Parisien says that a Franco-German agreement is quite possible the day Germany makes a serious effort to repair the ruin caused by her armies and gives guarantees of her desire to preserve the republican form of government.

The radical forces in France welcome the idea of an agreement, but it is said that the present government finds the idea distasteful. Supporters of the scheme explain that France might curtail the cash reparations payment under the terms of an accord and receive compensation in the shape of participation in German industries. It is definitely known, however, that the thought originated with the German industrialists among them Hugo Stinnes, who fear independent action by France in the reparation crisis, especially as German business circles declare such action would mean the occupation of the Ruhr.

Officials quarters reiterated today that Premier Poincare's position is unchanged regarding a moratorium. It is asserted that even though the reparations commission should see fit to grant a moratorium with certain additional guarantees, France would have the right of independent action unless the guarantees equalled M Poincare's conditions set forth at London.

To Prepare Bill Setting Up Fact Finding Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Chairman Winslow of the house commerce committee, after a conference today with President Harding, announced he would introduce immediately a bill to create a fact finding coal commission as a recommendation by the president in his special message to congres.

The measure, Mr Winslow said, would call for appointment by the president of a commission not to exceed nine members with instructions to report to the chief executive and congress by July 1, 1923. The commission would have wide powers of investigation including the right to examine the books of various coal producing companies. Mr Winslow said his committee would meet later in the day to consider the measure with a view to an immediate favorable report.

Seven Men, Hooded, March Into Church and Laud Preacher

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 21.—Seven men robed and hooded in the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan, entered the McKinley park Christian church here last night and handed a letter to Rev. Paul Reagor, the pastor. The message commended Reagor for his efforts to "arouse his congregation to their duties in the use of the ballot." Reagor read the letter and the masked men kneeled while one of their number prayed aluod, expressed the hope that "American citizens would not misunderstand the klan and class its members as outlaws."

The men then marched out and disappeared in waiting automobiles.

Governor Is Still Missing From His Office

Although "governor's day" at the Plattsmouth encampment of the Nebraska national guard has been postponed until next Friday, Governor McKelvie did not show up at his office Monday forenoon and newspaper reporters had no opportunity of asking what he proposed to do about the demand by Auburn citizens for the dismissal of a deputy state sheriff whom they charge with assualting and brutally treating Luther Gritz, a garage man of that city.

The governor received information concerning this incident from State Sheriff Hyers several days ago, but he has not been at his office since early Saturday forenoon. His office assaulting and brutally treating tion as to where he is, but they claim he is "somewhere in Nebraska."

Hinton Takes to Air On Way to Bahamas

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 21.—Lieut. Walter Hinton, in his giant seaplane, hopped off at West Palm beach this morning at 10:15, expecting to reach Nassau in a couple of hours. The pilot and crew of the Sampaio Correia had a good rest last night and with the plane's machinery working satisfactory and weather conditions favorable, they hoped to make a pleasant voyage over the gulf stream to the Bahamas.

FAILS TO REPORT ON PETITION FOR SPECIAL ELECTION

City Clerk Berg to Make a Further Check On Names.

Many Improvement Ordinances Ready For Action By Council.

WOULD STRIKE PETITION.

Commissioner C. W. Bryan moved that a petition bearing twenty-seven names, and filed with the other petions asking that the city undertake municipal merchandise business and other enterprises, be struck out, after H. G. Beltz, who had signed as qualified elector and circulator of the petition, appeared before the city council and said that he had been persuaded in an attorney's office to sign the petition, that he was not a citizen of the United States, and not a qualified voter, and that he did not know at the time he signed the petition, that he was swearing to the authencity of the signatures on the petition. Beltz said that he did not know whether the signers were voters or not.

Mr. Bryan demanded when the council met, Monday, that City Clerk Theo Berg report as far as he had gone, on the checking of the names on the petitions.

Nine withdrawals of signatures on the petitions were filled with the city clerk at 2 p. m. Monday.

The city council received no report whatever on the status of the petition asking for election on two proposed charter amendments that would permit creation of municipal lumber yards and merchandise stores, at the regular session Monday afternoon. T. H. Berg, city clerk, who was assigned the task of checking the petitions to determine their sufficiency, had planned to make his first report at that meeting but changed his mind at the last minute and then announced that he would check again the names of signers not registered nor listed in the telephone nor city directories.

This left the city council with comparatively little to do. It will no doubt be called in special session within the next few days to hear Mr. Berg's report for the matter must be settled within that time if the election on the questions submitted is to be held in September.

Commissioner Schroeder recommended to the council that the bid of the City Fuel company for coal for the water and light plant be accepted. The bid is a continuation of the last year's contract, a maximum price of $3 per ton at the mines for Pittsburg, deep shaft, mine run, the city to receive the benefit of any market price reduction that takes place during the year. The contract is for 15,000 tons, more or less.

Mr. Schroeder also recommended the acceptance of the bid of the Korsmeyer company for electric light bulbs, the contract also being the same as last year.

LONG QUARREL ENDS IN DEATH

Jim Marino Fires Load of Buckshot Into Sam Nanfito Monday.

OMAHA, Aug. 21.—Jim Marino fired four loads of buckshot into the body of Sam Nanfito today and ended a two year old feud.

Two years ago Joseph Marino, cousin of Jim was found mortally wounded and according to Jim Marino, Nanfito asked Jim to testify that Joseph was killed by Luciano Radicio which he refused to do. Jim told the police today that since that time Manfito has been blackmailing him and threatening his life and lately has been guarding the Marin home. Marino surrendered to the police.

Reports Measures Demanding Fraud Cases Be Pushed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Two bills asked by the department of justice to expedite its prosecution of war frauds were reported favorably today by the senate judiciary committee. One would permit the government to consolidate in one district court suits against several defendants residing in different states. The other would authorize federal courts to summon witnesses from a distance greater than 100 miles.

POTATO GROWERS ARE FACING RUIN

Must Get Cars to Move Crops Within 20 Days to Avert Heavy Loss.

Borah Lays Situation Before Union Leaders and Rail Executives.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Declaring that the rail strike was becoming "intolerable," Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, chairman of the senate labor committee, today urged both sides in the strike to hasten a solution because of the losses in moving crops.

Senator Borah, in a telegram to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of railway executives and in conference with B. M. Jewell leader of the striking shopment and W. M. Johnson, president of the International Union of Machinists, asserted the crop losses through lack of transportation were becoming serious.

Mr. Jewell who with Mr. Johnson, called on Senator Borah at the latter's office, was said to view the New York negotiations as hopeful and he and the machinists head, it was said, again presented to Senator Borah reports as to deterioration of railroad equipment.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Hundreds of fruit and potato growers in the west will be utterly ruined by the continuation of the railway strike for another 20 days and this situation is intolerable, both railroads and strikers were told today by Senator E. Borah, republican of Idaho, in a plea for peace.

Borah sent a telegram to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, advising him of conditions, and he told B. M. Jewell, director of the shopmen's strike, the same things in a personal conference today.

Boran's telegram to Cuyler follows:

'May I respectfully urge all who shall convene on Wednesday to consider ways of settling the strike that at this time throughout the fruit and potato regions of the west there is a pronounced shortage of cars and utter inability to move these perishable products to the markets.

"Thousands of cars of potatoes and fruit are ready to move and the most serious and widespread loss and damage must soon follow. If relief is not had at once and cars furnished the next twenty days will witness the ruin of hundreds of fruit and potato raisers who must lose their entire year's work, to say nothing of the indirect loss to the people, who ought to have these products. These things are doubtless familiar to you, but you will pardon me in urging it again upon your attention.

"The situation is fast becoming intolerable and I felt it my duty to accentuate these conditions to those who are to be in attendance at the conference.

"WILLIAM E. BORAH."

The views of railroad labor toward President Harding's suggestions for maintaining peace in the transportation industry were communicated today to Senator Borah, chairman of the Senate labor committee, by William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Bert M. Jewell, chief of the striking shopmen.

DROWNED IN RIVER

Henry Wenda Perishes After He Had Exhausted Self In Rescuing Other Members of Rowing Party—Sister Also Drowns.

(Special to The Star.)

FALLS CITY, Neb., Aug. 21.—H. Wenda, twenty-four, and his sister Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, twenty, both of St. Joseph, Mo., were drowned when the boat in which they were rowing with seven other persons capsized at Missouri Lakes, Mo., sixteen miles east of this city Sunday afternoon.

The bodies were recovered fifteen minutes after the drowning but all efforts to restore life were futile.

Wenda was a good swimmer, and lost his life only after he had become exhausted in rescuing other members of the rowing party.

The bodies were taken to St. Joseph.

Starts Move to End Recurrence of Rail Strikes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—A move to end the recurrence of railroad strikes by amendment of the transportation act was made in the house this afternoon by Representative Dickinson, republican o Iowa.

Dickinson introduced an amendment which would prevent wage decisions of the labor board from becoming effective until seven months after being handed down. The amendment, if adopted, he said, would eliminate the chief cause of railroad walkout.

Measure Urged By Harding Fails For Lack of Quorum

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—An effort today to have the senate foreign relations committee take up the bill of Senator Kellog, republican, Minnesota, extending federal protection and jurisdiction of federal courts to aliens legislation recommended by President Harding in his address to congress last week on the rail and coal strikes, failed through lack of a quorum, many senators being absent during the senate recess until Wednesday. Another meeting for the bill's consideration is to be held Wednesday.

Harding's Message Causes Back Fire

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The first flare back in congress against President Harding's strike message came this afternoon in the house when Representative Huddleston, democrat of Alabama, bitterly condemned it as an unwarranted attack on labor unions.

Huddleston charged the president if he carried out his threat to run trains, would exceed his constitutional powers and commit an act "much more harmful than that terrible tragedy at Herrin Ill."

Labor Troubles Break At Budapest

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Serious labor troubles have broken out at Budapest and the government is massing troops in the city to put down an uprising, according to advices received from Vienna today by the Daily News

The Hungarian government fears a general strike.

Forty thousand metal workers went out first and later were joined by building trades and flour mill employes.

Hogan was accompanied by William A. Kimsey, also of Denver. The couple planned to stop at North Platte, Neb., Omaha, Nebraska City, and Chicago.

EAST END HAS RAIN

Precipitation Is Not Heavy at Any Point But What Comes Does Much Good to Suffering Corn Fields.

ALMOST INTOLERABLE HEAT WAVE IS BROKEN

Fall At Lincoln Is Quarter of An Inch and No More Predicted For the Present With No Change In Temperature.

Lincoln and vicinity constituted the thin spot in a rather general rain that covered the eastern half of Nebraska, varying from light to heavy as the storm is traced north and followed by scattered showers in the west and south. Although locally, experts declare the fourth of an inch of rain that fell Sunday had done little to relieve the corn, still the storm broke a heat wave of unusual severity and brought to the corn fields in the north east quarter of the state the moisture needed to insure a corn crop of bumper proporions.

In scattering localities in South Nebraska the rain was heavy enough to be of great benefit to the corn. Lincoln with .19 of an inch reported, was one of tre driest sections in the east half of the state Monday morning. Omaha had a rain of .80 inches. Plattsmouth had a very heavy rain and the governor's day at the national guard encampment there was postponed until Friday on its account.

From Omaha north to Sioux City the rain seems to have increased in amount, the latter city reporting a downpour of 2.06 inches. This went west as far as O'Neill where a trace, measuring .03 inches fell. In the more central areas the following rainfall was reported by the local weather bureau. Ashland, .70; Auburn, .50, Columbus, .16; Fairbury, .85; Fairont, .25; Hartington, .76; Holdrege, .09; Tekamah, .60.

Oakdale reported .30 of an inch and Valentine had a shower with .12 of an inch of rain. The Sunday morning shower at Lincoln added .05 of an inch to the day's total of .24 inches.

The Burlington reports some additional rain. DeWitt received nearly an inch, enough to relieve the corn and to practically insure a big crop. Light rains fell from Superior to Napier. Sutton and Seward both had light rains. On the McCook division where moisture is badly needed, the light rains reported fell between Otis and Denver.

Heat Was Extreme.

The break in the extreme heat of Sunday was a welcome relief for almost the entire state. Several record temperatures for the summer were reported. Ten staions in Nebaskn repored the mercury at the century mark or above. Oklahoma City was the only other place in the United States that sweltered in such heat. Auburn reported a temperature of 100 degrees and other high temperatures were reported as follows. Broken Bow 101; Columbus, 99; Culbertson, 104; Fairbury, 102, Fairmont, 101; Grand Island, 102; Hastings, 101; Lincoln, 99; North Loup, 102; O'Neill, 100; Red Cloud, 104.

The prediction for Monday night and Tuesday is fair without much change in temperature.

Prof W. W. Burr declared Monday noon that he had examined the corn fields and found that locally the rain had not penetrated the ground more than one inch, not deep enough to reach the roots of the corn or to do it much good. The break in the high temperature did bring some relief to the crop, however, in the northeast portion of the state the corn is probably made. Several localties where the high temperatures were found Sunday reported corn to be burning to some extent.

Showers at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 21. — The heat wave which has prevailed here for the past two weeks was broken by showers in this section of the state Monday morning. The moisture was a help to the corn.

Boosters to "Jump" Off For Ford Day At 9 a. m. Tuesday

Promptly at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning the Lincoln boosters' caravan will leave the chamber of commerce for David City, where the local business men will attend the Ford day celebration. Thirty automobiles, about 120 men, the Nebraska State and American Legion bands, and the Lions club quartet will be in the party. A stop will be made at Seward, where a parade and concert will be staged. Plans for the return trip are not yet fixed. Charles Schwarz, chairman of the committee, has asked all car drivers to be at the chamber at 8 o'clock, and all boosters at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Burlington Claims Havelock Shops Are At Half Strength

The Burlington reported 3,446 men at work on its lines west Sunday, with more than 500 of them in the Havelock shops. Aside from the Havelock and Plattsmouth shops, the places of the strikers except those of special men of unusual qualifications, are about filled. Havelock is at half strength

The Lincoln office hired 25 men Sunday and divided them, eighteen to Havelock and seven to the round house. Monday morning there was a rush of applicants and thirty-five were employed before noon being sent to Havelock, fifteen; round house 10; Alliance, 5 and Plattsmonth five.

Will Quit State Position—Miss Eva Anderson has resigned her post as clerk and stenographer in the office of State Fire Marshal Hartford, to take effect early in September. She will enter the University of Nebraska and pursue a course there. Her place will be taken by Mrs. H. C. Johnston.

Candidates Attend Picnic—State Superintendent J. M. Matzen spoke last Saturday at the 31th annual reunion of Cass and Otoe county old settlers, held at Union. Crawford Kennedy, republican candidate for secretary of state, attended the old settlers' picnic for Boone county, at Albion, but made no speech.

Chief Receives Belt—Chief of Police Peter Johnstone Monday morning, received a hand made horse hair belt from an inmate of the state penitentiary by the name of Edwards. The belt is a wonderful piece of workmanship and has designs in red, white and blue, featuring flags of the United States and allies.

Had Undersized Catfish—Floyd Belote, George Belote, Ed Hall and John W. Cell, were each fined $5 and costs in Justice Hawes' court Monday morning on charges of having unlawfully in their possession undersized catfish, to-wit eight inches long. The law, Justice Hawes said, requires that only catfish eleven inches or longer may be caught.

First Radio Fire.—The fire department made a run shortly before noon Sunday to the home of H. M. Brock, 1623 K street, where a small blaze was started when Mr. Brock forgot to turn off the current after charging his radio batteries Sunday morning. The damage done was small consisting largely of burned wiring and a small hole in a partition between two rooms.

Gypsy Woman Fined—Mrs. Theodore Eli, a gypsy woman who was camped Sunday four miles west on O street, was fined $5 and costs in Justice Hawes' court Monday morning, on a complaint filed by Sheriff Ira Miller, charging her with striking Miss Mary Eli on the head with a tea kettle Sunday night, during a family row. Mrs. Eli pleaded guilty and paid her fine.

Will Probate Will—The will of the late Albert Huffman was admitted to probate by county Judge Robin R. Reid, Monday. Henry B. Brown, sole legatee, was appointed executor of the estate. Mr. Huffman left an estate valued at $300. He was employed by Mr. Brown for many years. The funeral expenses and expense of administration of the estate will exceed the value of the estate, however, and will be paid by Mr. Brown. Funeral expenses came to $309.

Clark Given $200 Fine—John Clark, 33, was found guilty Monday morning in police court on a complaint charging him with illegal possession and transportation of liquor, and was fined $200 and costs by Police Judge H. J. Whitmore. Clark was then taken to Justice Hawes court, where he faced another complaint, on which he had been arraigned on June 28. Clark entered a plea of not guilty June 30, and the case had been continued to Aug. 21. Justice Hawes Monday again continued the case, setting the date for the hearing for August 28, at 10 a. m. and fixed the bond at $300, which Clark was unable to furnish, and so was committed to the county jail.

Case is Continued—The case of the six trustees and deacons of the John's Evangelical Lutheran church at Emerald was continued in Justice of the Peace Stevens' court, Monday morning, by agreement until August 30 at 2 p. m. The men are T. B. Busboom, Chris Priess and Klaus Borchers of the board of trustees, and H. C. W. Jarms, John Mumme and Oscar Deinert of the board of deacons. They were charged in a complaint signed by C. A. Becker, a member of the church, with violation of the Reed-Norval language act. The six men are expected to enter their pleas when the case comes up next week. They were arrested last Tuesday and released on $100 personal recognizance bonds each.

Burglar Foiled—Mrs. George R. Mann, 2115 Garfield street, Sunday night noticed a bicycle parked between her home and that of Harry Grainger, 2127 Garfield. As the Graingers are away, she investigated and found a large sack attached to the handle bars of the wheel. Then she called her husband, who notified the police. Before the officers arrived on the scene, a man was seen to jump off the Grainger porch roof, take the wheel and pedal off down the alley. The man wore a cap and a light suit, and police believe he is the same man who held up W. J. Knight 2012 South Twenty-second street on Friday night. In discussing the case Monday morning, Captain Walter Anderson, chief of detectives, declared that the police should be called at once, whenever anything suspicious is noticed, and that any investigation should be left to the officers.

About People

The C. B. Towle family, who have been touring in Europe, started home Saturday, according to a letter received by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Towle writing from Geneva, Switzerland, on August 4, said they were enjoying a wonderful trip through the Alpine country and that unlike other European nations, the little mountain republic has an almost normal currency. The party later visited the Passion Play at Oberammergau. Mr. Towel mentions seeing Mrs. A. S. Raymond and daughter Dorothy in Paris. He closes with the post script that he spent the night in a continental sleeping car, and must now go to bed to get some needed sleep.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Moore and son, D. E. Moore, are back from a week's auto trip to Brown county and its surrounding territory. Mr. Moore has purchased a section of land bordering on Willow lake, and will hold it as a pleasure ground. He is endeavoring to secure a lease on some adjacent state school land.

Woman Loses Life In Auto Accident at Ferry Landing

MARTINEZ, Cal., Aug. 21.—A searching investigation was under way today to determine responsibility for the accident Sunday which cost the life of Mrs. C. D. Whiting, wife of the chief deputy sheriff of Jackson county, Missouri. C. D. Whiting and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jones were rescued with difficulty. The automobile in which the party was riding was half way on the gang plank of the Benecia-Martinez automobile ferry when the boat pulled out, precipitating the car into the water. Mrs. Whiting went down with the car. Her body was recovered.

STILL SPENDING MILLION A MONTH

July Expenditures For State of Nebraska Over That Average.

Actual Cost of Running Government Thirteen Months $13,449,701.

"A million a month" is still the rate of expenditure at which the state government of Nebraska continues to run. The July outgo from appropriated funds was largely in excess of that sum, being $1,240,640, as shown by the monthly statement of Finance Secretary Phil Bross, just issued. This does not include disbursements from the state hail insurance fund, or any part of the semi-annual school apportionment.

For thirteen months of the current biennium, embracing the fiscal year from July 1, 1921, to June 30, 1922, and the month of July this year, the total expenditures were $12,778,232. There were claims owing by the state and unpaid, amounting to $671,469. This makes a total of $13,449,701 that it actually cost to run the state government during the thirteen months.

The state payroll in July was $314,414. Office and traveling expenses an miscellaneous expense totalled $67,087. The sum of $282,386 was invested from the state treasury in securities for the American Legion relief fund.

The six code departments spent a total of $100,504 in July, compared with $108,205 for the executive departments whose heads are elected by the people. It cost $27,042 to operate the supreme and district courts, $392,522 for "sundry departments," $278,689 for educational institutions, $153,513 for penal and charitable institutions, and $179,200 for highways and bridges.

CLOSE CALL FROM SERIOUS INJURY

McGowan Car Rolls Into the Ditch But Occupants Are Not Hurt.

G. I. McGowan and family, of Ulysses, miraculously escaped serious injury eleven miles west of Lincoln, Sunday about 9 a. m., when the Dodge touring car in which they were riding ran off the road into a ten-foot ditch and turned over and nearly righted itself. Mr. and Mrs. McGowan and three children were in the car at the time. None of the family received so much as a scratch and were not thrown from the car.

Mr. McGowan attempted to turn out in the road to allow another automobile, coming in the opposite direction, to pass when the McGowan car struck soft dirt beside the road and toppled into the ditch before Mr. McGowan could get the car righted.

Fats Admitted Free To Moving Pictures

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—One hundred Springfield heavyweights trod the telltale scales and blushingly allowed other eyes to see the pointer pass the 200 mark.

Feminine reserve on the personal question of avoirdupois disappeared when a local motion picture theatre manager recently advertised "All women over 200 pounds admitted free."

An "anti-fat" movie was one of the features.

The manager said the weights ranged from 203 to 282.

JOHNSTOWN FLOOD IS STILL BOOMING

Pre-Volstead Drinks Are On Sale as Saloons Open Monday.

Situation Developed From Mayor's Order Filled With TNT, Politicians Say.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. Aug. 19.—Saloons here were still selling "good" beer with a kick today. Business was first rate during the morning hours. The sale of beer will continue until government agents close the saloons. Prohibition enforcement agents were "rarin' to go" early in the day, but were awaiting definite instructions from Washington before they acted.

—Johnstown is nursing a "hang over" this morning. Residents of the Conemaugh valley drank their fill of pre-Volstead beer Saturday and Sunday night. Many took large supplies home for use yesterday.

O. R. Stiffler, ousted group head of the Johnstown district federal prohibition enforcement agents, has left the city. He is believed to be in Washington seeking reinstatement. He has strong following here.

Mayor Cauffiel, whose spectacular action late last week in permitting the sale of beer has stirred federal authorities in Washington and the drys here, is threatened with recall by the church element.

"They may have this job any time they want it," says the mayor. Coming at the time of the most intense political campaign in the history of Pennsylvania is opening up, the action of Mayor Cauffiel has thrown a fearful charge of political TNT in central Pennsylvania politics, though Cauffiel was not playing partisan politics when he broke things open here Saturday.

Political leaders declare the situation is loaded with a lot of explosives which ever way action is taken.

Mayor Couffiel, who is a multi-millionaire and owns huge mines in Arizona, may step down. An unconfirmed report had it he might move over into Ohio to make his future home. Cauffiel is also heavily interested in Ohio oil and gas projects. He has had six years excitement as executive of this city. There has seldom been a dull moment during his regime.

Says Bomb Mystery Will Be Cleared Up Before End of Day

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Before the day is over the whole story of the dynamiting of the Niagara Falls high speed line cars last week will be known, according to District Attorney Moore.

He said this morning that the whole matter would be cleared up and the authorities would know who did the dynamiting of the cars, resulting in forty persons being injured.

John C. Hurley 31 Woodlawn avenu in whose home the dynamite which the police seized Sunday was stored the night before, was arrsted today on a charg of having explosives in his possession.

Five men arrested Sunday on the charges of illegally possessing and transporting dynamite, will be arraigned in court today. They are R. C. Lacey, former president of the Central Labor council; John M. Simmer, Burt Wilson, Frank Reilly and Edward Blimm.

The latter four are striking carmen.

LAYS DOWN EDICT ON A MORATORIUM

France Will Consent Only When Forests and Mines Turned Over.

(Associated Press)

BAR LE DUC, France, Aug. 21.—France will not consent to a moratorium of any character to Germany unless the Germany state mines of the Ruhr and the national forests are placed in the hands of the allies as a guarantee, and no matter what happens, France will not depart from this policy.

Such was the position of the French government with regards to the reparations question as outlined this afternoon by Premier Poincare at the opening session of the general counsel of the department of the Meuse. The premier's speech had been awaited with great eagerness in allied circles, since it has been generally accepted that the defnite and final position of France woulld be outlined in this address.

The premier disclaimed any desire on the part of France to ruin Germany under the guise of a demand for productive guarantees.

The day Germany recognizes loyally her obligations toward France and carries them out with good grace declared M. Poincare, we will not refuse to examine with her the best methods of assuring the prompt and regular execution of the treaty of Versailles."

Tests Show That Germans Superior In Gliding Plane

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The superiority of the Germans in "gliding"-flying mortorless airplanes is emphasized by the results of the international contests at Clermont Ferrand, which closed yesterday. The best accomplishment was that of a Farnam biplane which in the two week's flying was in the air a total of 19 minutes, 59 seconds.

Edmund Allen, the American entry, was given seventh place. His flights totalled 12 minutes, 27 seconds before his machine was put out of competition, by accident.

General classification tests from the top of the 4,000 fot mountain Puy-De-Dome, are to begin tomorrow.

In gliding tests at Gersfeld, Germany, last Saturday, Herr Hentzen, a student of the Hanover technical school, kept a machine in the air two hours and ten seconds on a single flight, breaking all records.

Escaped Convicts At Beaver Creek

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 21.—The four convicts who late last Thursday afternoon escaped from the South Dakota penitentiary here, passed through Beaver Creek, Minn., about 20 miles east of Sioux Falls at 8 o'clock this morning, according to reports reaching here. The men were heading east with posses in close pursuit. They were driving the Ford which they stole from a farm near Humdolt, S. D., early Friday morning. They are not believed to be armed.

General Rain In South Dakota

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 21.—rain fell generally over the eastern part of South Dakota last night, approaching the intensity of a cloudburst in some localities. Telegraph and telephone companies report considerable damages to their lines from the lightning and wind that accompanied the storm. There were no reports of hail or extremely strong winds. One inch of rain fell in Sioux Falls and vicinity within an hour and a half last night.

NORTH POLE MOVING.

BERLIN, Aug. 21. — Professor Schnauder in Potsdam has made the discovery that in the last few years the north pole has come fifteen meters nearer to the Potsdam observatory. This is said to confirm measurements made in California. The American observations, however, were that the pole had moved five meters in seventeen years.

MAKES AWARDS TO INJURED WORKERS

Commissioner Kennedy Announces Payments Under Liability Law.

John Spahn Gets $459—Nelson Poultry Co. Does Not Have to Pay.

The sum of 450, in weekly installments of $15, has been awarded to John Spahn of Lincoln, a truckdriver for the Sullivan Transfer & Storage Co., as compensation to be paid by that firm for 20 per cent permanent loss of the use of his left foot, as the result of having a heavy office desk fall upon him when he accidentally tumbled into an elevator shaft. This is additional to temporary compensation hitherto paid him. The accident took place a year ago.

In a case where a New York attorney, claiming to represent relatives of Patrick Marshall, sought to obtain compensation for the latter's death in a railroad accident at Peekskill, N. Y., while he was acting as caretaker for a carload of poutry shipped by the Nelson Bros., Poultry Co., of Lincoln, there was insufficient evidence to satisfy Compensation Commissioner Kennedy, who denied the application.

Allowed Compensation.

On account of the death of Keith Jones from gas poisoning due to faulty combustion of gasoline in the truck he drove at York for the Public Service Co., his dependents are allowed compensation for 350 weeks, minus what has been paid already.

Jack Corlett of North Platte, who had his left kneecap broken while hauling beams for the Standard Bridge Co. of Omaha, is to get $15 a week for 161 1-4 weeks, or 75 per cent of the amount he would be entitled to for permanet total loss of the use of his leg. The insurance company had offered to pay for 15 weeks and $150 additional in lieu of an operation which Corlett did not wish to undergo for fear of making the injury worse.

The widow of William H. Atkinson, who died from injuries received at Omaha while working for the Cudahy Packing Co., is awarded $3,808 in weekly installments of $10.88, with $150 more to cover burial expenses, and all medical and hospital expense.

Getting Data On Assessment Cost

State Tax Commissioner Osborne is requesting county clerks of Nebraska to report to him the number of personal and special tax schedules filed in their respective counties. He will use this to ascertain the relative cost of making the assessment in each county, by dividing the number of schedules into the total outlay. Mr. Osborne also expects to have figures on the per capita expense of gathering each county's assessment figures.

WRITER DECLARES MOTIVE POWER IS IN BAD CONDITION

Correspondent Visits Engine Repair Works and Tells What He Saw.

Declares Normalcy Cannot Be Restored Short of Four Months Time.

The International News Service has sent a special correspondent through two of the biggest railroad shops in the middlewest. His inside story of what he found follows.

(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service.)

BURLINGTON, Ia., Aug. 21.—It will take the railroads at least four months to get their motive power back to normal after they resume full operation with skilled shop employes. The big shops are being operated and some of them are nearly fully manned, but with labor unskilled in railroad shop methods.

I have just been through the important shops of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe at Shopton, just outside Fort Madison, Iowa, and through the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy shops at West Burlington. Each of these plants is what is known as a divisional plant employing hundreds of men in normal times.

At Shopton a force of approximately [illegible] men are normally employed in the roundhouse, back shops, and car yards and car repair shops and a tremendous amount of repair work is done. In the roundhouse I found the stalls full of assorted engines and a force of men at work which compared close to the normal day complement. It was very apparent that every effort was being made to keep up the ordinary light repairs which are known as running repairs, which are the round house [illegible].

Engines of All Kinds.

A year ago at the Santa Fe the "power" consisted of [illegible] freight and passenger engines, [illegible]. The older ones had been sent to branch lines and were "dead" in reserve [illegible].

On this visit I was surprised to find the roundhouse filled with different sizes of freight engines, some of which really belonged in the second and third classes [illegible].

An enormous volume of freight traffic [illegible] now to handled by the Santa Fe, but it is not in the back shops where the heavy repair and construction work is normally handled [illegible] struck by the [illegible]. Where the sound of pneumatic machines, steam and air pressure hammers, and the scream of lathes usually is music to the busy railroad [illegible] prevailed. I found only a [illegible] men at work where there should be hundreds. These men [illegible] lathes [illegible] for what appeared to be only running repairs for use by the roundhouse [illegible].

There were any number of big engines awaiting repairs. In the car shops and repair yards there are enough men to handle the light repair on loaded cars and cars of "foreign" but the number of bad order cars is astonishing.

Force About Half Normal.

At West Burlington, in the C. B. & Q. shops the conditions are very much the same. [illegible] the force of men employed is only about half normal and is being utilized only for the most necessary running repairs. Few of the men are skilled workers. There is no reserve power on hand, but there is a growing line of disabled locomotives. Like conditions prevail at several minor points where I passed over shops and yards.

Carrier Loses 6th Bridge In Short Time By Flames

HARRISON, Ark., Aug. 21.—Through traffic on the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad line was stopped either way from a point near Eureka Springs today because of the destruction by fire of the bridge over Beaver Creek last night. Incendiarism is suspected as the flames [illegible] and spread too rapidly to have been started by accident.

This is the sixth bridge burned on the road since its resumption of business three months ago. A train of [illegible] cars of stock enroute to [illegible] was stopped at the flaming bridge and today were unloaded, driven across the creek and reloaded.

Passenger trains are still running, passengers and mail being transferred over the creek from one train to another.

Conference On Turco Greek Problem Due to Start Within Six Weeks.

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The allied conference on the Turco-Greek problem, probably will be held in some Italian city within six weeks as the result of a note from the British government received at the French foreign office today. The note is in response to a French communication August 5, suggesting conference of the allies in which Turkish and Greek representatives would be admitted on an equal basis.

Official confirmation of the forthcoming meeting was withheld today pending the return of Premier Poincare who is in the department of the Meuse to dedicate a soldier's monument. But in well informed circles it was said that such a meeting was assured.

Representatives of both the Angora and Constanople governments will be invited as well as the allied high commissioners in Constantinople. The conference, it was said today, probably will be held on the basis of the present positions of the Greek and Turkish forces in Asia Minor.

House to Send Tariff Measure to Conference Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Republican leaders in the house planned to send the tariff bill to conference today under a special rule when the measure was received from the senate, just thirteen months after the former body first acted upon it. Representative Fordney, of Michigan, Green of Iowa and Longworth of Ohio, republicans, and Garner of Texas and Collier of Mississippi democrats were listed as the probable conferees.

The task of composing the 2,000 odd differences between the senate and house will be begun this week by the conference committee. The position of the house on the valuation question may be decided by a direct vote of that body, with the general expectation that it will accept the senate foreign valuation plan, with the so-called flexible tariff provisions instead of the American valuation provision which it previously adopted.

Wood Will Stay At Manila Until Program Has Been Completed

MANILA, Aug. 21.—Governor Leonard Wood will remain at the head of the Philippines administration until the five year program which is considered essential for the rehabilitation of Philippine affairs is assured of being carried out. Despite reports from the United States that he will return to assume his duties as provost of the University of Pennsylvania in January, it seemed apparent today that he would be unable to leave Manila until the close of the legislative session early in February or perhaps later if an extra session of the legislature should develop.

General Wood has not commented on the matter other than to say that he has not yet arranged to leave the islands. It is generally believed that family reasons impelled General Wood to accept the university post, but it is also believed here that he will remain on the job here until assured his program will be carried out.

Indians Loan Cash to England

LONDON, Aug. 21.—More than 30,000,000 pounds sterling has been subscribed in the new Indian government loan, constituting a record for state borrowing in India for a single year, says a Reuter's dispatch from Calcutta today.

During the past six years India's response to the government's demands for loans exceeded 127,000,000 pounds sterling although before the war the subscription of 3,500,000 pounds sterling was considered an excellent success. The new loan relieves immediate financial anxieties. It is understood that the majority of small investers were Indians.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

As Adelaide left Mrs. Hollingshead's room she saw Dr. Carter standing at the head of the stairs. He came forward to greet her.

"Have you had any rest today?" he demanded.

"Yes, thank you. I had a long nap."

"There is a matter I must speak to you about. You may think it impertinent. But I want to beg you to take care of yourself."

"[illegible] well," she began, but he [illegible] her.

"[illegible] you are perfectly well. But you will have a great drain upon [illegible] and strength during the next little while. Mr. Hollingshead depends on you. One cannot help that now—in the face of his grief—but it is none the less hard on you.

"Let me explain. He has just told me that you are seeing such callers as must be seen; that you will answer such telephone calls as the servants cannot answer. Then he informed me that you would arrange everything in his daughter's room as she would have liked it—attending to flowers, etc. That is why I sent for you. I want you to see to things in Miss Hollingshead's room now while I am here, for I shall go in with you."

In silence Adelaide followed him into the room that had been Patricia's. She tried not to shudder as she saw the outline of the sheet-covered figure on the bed. Going directly to the boxes of flowers, she opened them and laid some of the blossoms on the bed. Others she put in a vase on the little table at the bed's head.

"Her father would want some of these in her hand, I am sure," she said now, looking down at two American beauties she held. "Will it be all right to—to turn back the sheet?"

"Certainly," the physician said calmly. "The woman who came with the undertaker asked [illegible] for one of Miss Hollingshead's gowns. She [illegible] in while you [illegible] see."

The Terrible Truth.

As he spoke, the man turned down the sheet from the upper part of the body. With a conscious effort, Adelaide looked at the waxen face.

It was as if a beautiful statue lay there. It was as easy to imagine a smile or gleam coming to the face of a marble bust as to this face.

But there was such a peace as had never been on Patricia Hollingshead's countenance in life.

Adelaide recalled the flashing smile, the sparkling eyes, the [illegible] coloring—even the occasional petulant frown.

All were gone. In their place lay a great stillness—a satisfied stillness.

"I am thankful her father can see her like this," she murmured.

She felt the hot tears rushing to her eyes, and turned away. The thought of the loneliness of the father unnerved her as the sight of the dead had not done.

In a moment the physician was at her side. "Dear child," he said gently, "I understand! Please believe that I do and that I do sympathize with you."

"Oh, no," she protested. "do not be sorry for me! This is not a personal sorrow, really. Only—"

"But I do understand," he insisted. "I did not imagine that your grief was for yourself. It is for others. For the father and for the mother. It will not be easy here when all is over. The son is coming home tomorrow, you know?"

A Curt Response.

She met his scrutinizing gaze. "Yes, I know he is. Poor boy—this must be a terrible shock to him."

"Yes." The response was almost curt. "I advised having him stay at the hospital until everything was over—for several days more. But his father wants him home. It complicates things a bit—for he cannot walk out for a week or two—and may not be an easy patient. He has been spoiled from his cradle, I fancy."

Adelaide made no rejoinder. When the man spoke again his voice had changed.

"Perhaps I should not say this. I beg your pardon."

He went back to the bed and drew the sheet over the beautiful face on the pillow.

"We will leave the light burning," he said in a matter-of-fact tone. "Mr. Hollingshead is coming in here. I am going to see Mrs. Hollingshead now."

Adelaide stood at the head of the stairs, watching the tall figure pass down the hall to the sick woman's room. Why had his manner changed when he spoke of Richard Hollingshead? Did he fancy that she?—but no! the very idea was absurd.

For the moment she had forgotten that Dr. Carter had passed the dining room door on the day that Richard Hollingshead had kissed her.

Says New Tariff Recognizes Needs Of Greater West

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 21.—The action of the senate upon the tariff bill just passed marks a new era in tariff making, declared senator Hiram W. Johnson in a statement issued here.

"Heretofore," the statement continued, "tariff bills have been written presumably around the desires and needs of the east and the great middle states. The present bill recognizes finally the desires and needs of the great west."

Jailed For Calling Shop Worker "Scab."

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 21.—Charged with violation of a federal restraining order by the use of the epithet "scab," and with attacking Mike Panovich, an employ of the Union Pacific railroad, six former employes of the railroad company were arrested Sunday and held under bond after preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner W. A. [illegible]. George [illegible], one of the six accused men is charged directly with hurling a missle which struck Panovich in the back.

Strikebreaker At Tacoma Says Is Assault Victim

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 21.—W. L. Anderson an employe in the Northern Pacific railroad shops reported to the police last night he had been beaten and robbed by a group said to be strike sympathizers including several women, as he left a hotel near the shops.

He declared he was set upon and his money taken from him after he had been attacked.

Chautauqua Course By Home Talent At Nelson Successful

(Special to The Star.)

NELSON, Neb., Aug. 21—"Home entertainment for home people," that was the theory advanced by a few of our enterprising people who wanted to take an advanced step in a summer program. A five-course program was mapped out and the numbers were given two weeks apart. The audiences increased with each succeeding program, and the venture was so successful that already there is talk of doing the same next year. The course consisted of an operetta, "Jack and the Bean Stalk" given by the pupils of the high school; "The Last Judgment" an oratorio by Louis Spohr; a lecture by R. B. Howell of Omaha on the radio telephone; a play by the American Legion, "A Pair of Sixes," and the closing number was made up of a band concert, a farce and a minstrel. Financially, as well as socially it was a success.

Hundreds Attend Farm Union Picnic

VERDIGRE, Neb., Aug. 21.—Five hundred farmers attended the picnic held in Amercian Legion hall by Riverside local of the Farmers union. J. C. CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES.

TABLE ROCK, Neb., Aug. 21.—The chautauqua at DuBois has just closed, and the program was a very good one. However when it came to signing a contract for next year, the proposition was turned down. Some of the DuBois citizens were willing to sign a contract, but a majority voted against it. The Standard chautauqua system furnished the program at DuBois this year.

"Y" BOYS' CAMP AT CRETE DEDICATED

Guests From Lincoln See Key Buried In Depths of the Blue River.

Searson Makes Address—New Lodge Built by Local Rotary Club.

Several hundred Lincoln boys with their parents were guests of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. at Crete Sunday at the formal dedication of the boys camp on the river there. The ceremony was made to graphically illustrat the hospitality of the camp by the manner of the dispesal of the camp key.

From a high tree on the river's edge a chain swing was raised to a high platform. From this platform swung the boy who had been intrusted with the key. Far out over the center of the river he dropped from the swing in a graceful dive. He deposited the key upon the bottom of the river.

The newly built lodge is the final touch for the permanence of the camp. The camp was first built in 1913. At that time, the tent houses were built in a temporary manner. Each year improvement have been added until the present time. The lodge is intended for the use of a permanent caretaker of the camp. Heretofore there has been no one in charge of the camp except during the regular camping season. Money for the building of the lodge was raised by the Lincoln Rotary club.

James M. Searson, Lincoln Rotarian, made the dedicatery address. His short, earnest talk was, as are all camp activities, made to the boy. Particularly did he dwell upon the advantages for the boy who has the opportunity of benefitting by talks with older men of sound character. He contrasted the open air gathering to which he talked with the stiff solemnity of his own boyhood in a puritan family where a violin was considered "an instrument of the devil". In conclusion he briefly stated the object of the camp as to "develop the after self of the boy along the lines of honor and religious activity."

A final campfire was lighted in the evening in the pit of the 'bowl' around which the boy leaders and their relatives listened to plans for next years camp.

More Help Might Have Lengthened The Time It Took

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Aug. 1.—It took a mule driver, five city firemen, a veterinarian, a hardware man, a blacksmith and about 1,000 spectators two hours and five minutes to release a diminutive mule which caught its foot in a street drain pipe here Sunday.

The mule put its right front hoof into the pipe while being watered at a city trough. The driver called for help. Five firemen responded and worked thirty minutes when a veterinarian's assistance was enlisted. The crowd grew larger. A hardware man was asked for tools to break the concrete ring of the pipe. A piece of the pipe broke in a ring and the concrete rested on the mule's hoof. The blacksmith pulled the shoe from the hoof, the relief corps pulled the hoof from the pipe, the blacksmith shod the mule the mule bit the veterinarian, the veterinarian sore, the crowd laughed and everybody went home.

Illinois Man Is Oldest Farmer

AURORA, Ill., Aug. 21.—Geoge Elkins, 97-years-old of Buncomb, Ill., was selected today as the winner of the prize offered by the Central States fair for the oldest man actively engaged in running his farm on which he has lived for seventy-five years. He won a trip to the fair, $50 in cash and a number of farm implements.

Hospital Causes Arrest of Farmer On Check Charge

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—Prison bars face T. F. Marlatt, aged farer of Cedar Rapids, Neb., ho was arrested on a charge of giving a check without having sufficient funds in the bank in payment of a hospital bill for his son, Lawrence, who was a patient at Nicholas Senn hospital.

According to Marlatt, his son left him after he had given the check to the hospital.

"I told the hospital to hold the check for a time, hoping that my son, as soon as he was able, would help me earn the money," said Marlatt. "The boy left me after being out of the hospital about two weeks. I couldn't earn enough to take up the chick, which was for $160."

The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out by the hospital authorities.

Enormous Crowd At Otoe Picnic

TALMADGE, Neb., Aug. 21.—An enormous crowd attended the annual picnic of the Otoe County Farmers union held here. C. J. Osborn, state president of the organization, made the principal address. Several candidates were also on the job and told how they would save the situation if given an opportunity. Band music was furnished by the Nebraska City band, and vocal music by the quartet from Bratton-Union consoljdated schools north of Humboldt.

THE NEWBERRY CONVICTION WRONG

Secretary Hughes Reviews Case and Says Finding In Case Unjust.

Declares As Result Senator Has Suffered Most Serious Injustice.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Secretary Hughes in a letter made public last night by the republican national committee expresses the conviction after a review of the Newberry case "that Senator Newberry was wrongly and most unjustly convicted.'

The secretary writing to The Rev. Hugh B. McCaulley of Patterson, N. J., in response to a inquiry as to "facts" in the Newberry case gives in detail the findings of the courts, especially the supreme court set aside the conviction of Mr. Newberry and then concludes:

"Despite the long period of preparation, the rigid investigation, the careful choosing of their ground, the long drawn out trial, the attempt in every possible way to besmirch, and the zeal, ability and even bitterness of his pursuers, their endeavor to establish a violation of law on the part of Senator Newberry completely failed and accordingly, Senator Newberry stood as a senator duly elected by the people of the state of Michigan and entitled to his seat in the senate of the United States."

Mr. Hughes expressed the belief that "there seems to be a general misconception of the nature of the litigation and its result and Senator Newberry has suffered in consequence, a most serious injustice."

"The conviction of Senator Newberry," he continues, "was obtained under a statute held by the majority of the supreme court to be valid; rested upon a ground which did not involve any finding by the jury of moral turpitude; and was effected only by a most serious misconstruction of the statute which exposed him to conviction regardless of any moral offense upon his part and no matter how high minded he might have been in his conduct in the campaign."

The secretary, who, as counsel for Mr. Newberry and his associates, participated in arguments in the case before the supreme court, further declares in his letter that "it should be borne in mind that Senator Newberry's conviction in the lower court was not based on any charge of fraud or corruption or of the use of money for any illegal purposes or of any act involving moral turpitude."

Mr. Hughes then explains that the conviction of Mr. Newberry was based solely on the charge that there had been an expenditure in his campaign and election of more than $3,750, the limit fixed by the statute, by the state of Michigan and that the federal corrupt practices act made it unlawful for a candidate to spend in excess of the limit fixed by state law.

"Senator Newberry could not have been convicted," Mr. Hughes adds, "even upon this charge without what I always regarded, and so stated in my argument to the supreme court, as an extraordinary misapplication of the statute upon which the charge was based."

Camp Fire Feature Of Soldier Conclave

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 21.—Camp fire service at the Bible institute here last night marked the informal opening of the twenty-fourth annual encampment and reunion of United Spanish war veterans and the national auxiliary, the women's society of the organization.

Governor William D. Stephens and Mayor George E. Cryer tonight officially welcomed the 3,000 delegates.

TWO REFORMATORY MEN MAKE ESCAPE

Chester Cowley and Roy Troupman Escape Sometime Sunday Afternoon.

Recently Sentenced From Omaha—Known to Officers as "Hard Customers."

Chester Cowley and Roy Troupman, recently sentenced to the state reformatory from Douglas county, escaped about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and despite a thoroughgoing search, had not been apprehended Monday morning. The escape was made during the chapel hour at the institution, and the fugitives are supposed to have had a half hour's start. Superintendent Gus Miller immediately organized the pursuit. The regulation $50 reward has been offered.

Cowley is 20 years of age, weighs 170, and is 5 feet 10 inches in height. He has dark brown hair and eyes and when last seen was wearing a light shirt and blue trousers. He was received at the reformatory June 22 of this year for grand larceny at Omaha. The records indicate that he has no trade. His sentence was two years.

Troupman, alias Allen Kline, was convicted of holding up a druggist in Omaha early in the winter, and reached the institution March 29. He was shot in the leg while being captured and still bears the scar. He is 22, fair complected, with dark brown hair and blue eyes, and weighs 160 pounds. He was known to the authorities as a "hard customer." He was sentenced to 4 years and 6 months.

SEA TALE THRILLS FRISCO BAY FRONT

Crew On Becalmed Ship Starves By Giving Food to Save Baby.

(Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—A tale of the sea, a becalmed ship, a starving crew and a mother with a new borne babe to preserve whose life everyone else sacrificed rations, thrilled the water front here today upon the arrival of the motorship Annie Johnson with news of the San Francisco schooner William H. Smith.

The schooner was becalmed in the Pacific for forty-three days and was discovered on August 41, when Captain Murray responded to her signals of distress and provided her with supplies.

A pitiable condition was found aboard the schooner. The crew of seven had been eleven days almost without food, except to copra, with which the schooner was loaded.

They were physically unable to hoist the emergency supply of rations over the ship's side.

In the cabin, Mrs. Nels P. Jenkins, wife of the master, was attempting to nurse her baby, whose cries rapidly were growing weaker. The mother, although favored by Captain and crew in the matter of available food, could not supply sufficient nourishment for the infant.

The crew of the becalmed vessel, it was said, was beginning to show signs of insanity when the motor ship came to the rescue.

For 116 days, no world has been heard from the unfortunate vessel and she had been given up for lost. With favorable winds, it is expected she will be in port before the end of the week.

BYFIELD ACTION A FAMILIAR ONE

Estranged Wife of Candler Expresses Sympathy For Her Husband.

(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service.)

(International News Service.)

HONOLULU, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Walter T. Candler, although separated from her millionaire banker-husband of Atlanta, Ga., today expressed sympathy for him in the scandal involving a $100,000 damage suit against him by Mrs. Clyde K. Byfield, wife of an Atlanta automobile dealer.

"The Byfield scandal is of a sad nature and is familiar to other mercenary cases against the Canaler family," said Mrs. Candler. "It will not affect my attitude towards my husband."

The Candlers have been separated since last spring on account of incompatibility of temperament. A private settlement was made and it was understood that a divorce would eventually follow. Mrs Candler said she would return to the United States to make her home in Pasadena, Calif., with her child.

Mrs. Byfield brought suit in Georgia alleging that she had sustained injuries when Candler attacked her in her stateroom on board the Cunard line Beengara on the night of July 16, while the parties were enroute for Europe.

Woman Hurt in Sunday Accident

Mrs. F. V. Tilton, 1326 South Sixteenth street, was injured, but not seriously, when the Ford car in which she and her husband were riding, was badly smashed at the corner of Sixteenth and Garfield streets, Sunday afternoon. The injured woman was rushed to the Lincoln sanitarium in Castle, Roper & Mathews ambulance, where she is being attended by Dr. R. M. Morrill.

According to witnesses of the accident, a Buick car, driven by Mrs. G. G. Beams, 1937 Garfield street was going west on Garfield and the Ford south on Sixteenth. The Ford was struck in the rear, breaking both wheels on the right side, and injuring Mrs. Tilton. Mrs. Beams claimed that she was driving very slowly.

ADVENTIST PASTOR SAYS PROPHECY IS BEING FULFILLED

Kingdom Is Divided As Foreseen By the Prophet Daniel.

Eternal Empire to Be Set Up By the Everlasting King.

"There will never be another universal empire until the kingdom of God is established on the earth, which will overthrow and supplant all existing kingdoms, and will stand forever. Men may try to set up a world empire to gratify their own selfish ambitions, but they will fail because the Bible declares there will be no other until Christ comes to claim the world as His own." These are the views held and expressed by Pastor B. M. Garton, of Nebraska City, a prominent speaker at the Bible study hour, at the Adventist conference at Epworth park. He contends that God alone will be able to set up the next universal kingdom.

"Several great warriors have attempted since the fall of the Roman empire, which was to be the last world power, to break the clear statements of Scripture found in the second chapter of Daniel, but all have failed. Not even the ingenuity of Charles V, Charlemagne, Napoleon, or Kaiser Wilhelm could succeed," said Pastor Garton.

"Why did they fail, and why will all others fail? They were fighting against the decree of God, when he said, 'they shall not cleave one to another,' hence no wonder they failed. In the second chapter of Daniel we are given an outline of the world's history from the days of Nebuchadnezzar down to the setting up of Christ's kingdom, which shall never be destroyed.

"When Nebuchadnezzar was on the throne, the kingdom of Babylon was the first universal empire. The king was troubled by a strange and pressive dream which had gone from his mind, and after the astrologers and wise men of Babylon had demonstrated the fraudulence of their claims by failing to make known the king's dream, Daniel, one of the Hebrew captives, was called before the king and told him both the dream and the interpretation. Using the symbol of a great image, which appeared to the king in his dream, God gave to Daniel an outline of the political history of the world as it was to be from his days down to the end of time. This prophetic outline, therefore, which greatly interested Nebuchadnezzar, is of far greater importance to us because the climax of its predictions will be reached in our day.

Daniel's Interpretation.

"As related by the prophet Daniel, the image's head of gold, his breast and arms of silver, his sides of brass and his legs of iron, represented four great kingdoms which were successively to rule the world. Babylon, the first of these, rose to universal dominion under Nebuchadnezzar in 603 B. C., and continued to 538 B. C. In that year Babylon was taken by the army of the Medes and Persians under Cyrus and the second empire was set up its place, continuing to the battle of Arbela, B. C. 331, when the Persian monarch, Darius, was overthrown by Alexander the Great. The third, or Grecian monarchy, then continued in power to the year B. C. 168, when it in turn gave place to the "iron monarchy of Rome.'

"The feet of the image of this prophetic dream were not solid iron like the legs, but were partly iron and partly clay; this signifying, the prophet explained, that the kingdom was to be divided, this division being represented by the ten toes upon the feet. History informs us that the oRman empire was broken up between the years A. D. 351 and 476, and that the divisions or kingdoms out of it were ten in number. Out of these divisions have come the nations of modern Europe.

"The prophet explained to the king that as iron and clay will not mix into one body, so these divisions of Rome would not be again united, nor would the various nations resulting from this division 'cleave one to another.' Against the simple statement that the kingdom should be divided have been hurled, one after another, the clans of Clovis, the legions of Charlemagne, the phalanxes of Charles V., the batallions of Napoleon, and now within our own memory the supposedly invincible hosts of Emperor William. The world reeled under their onslaughts, but the Word of the Lord stood fast, and Europe remained divided.

"Attempts at Union have also been made in another way, and this is worthy of note. 'They shall mingle themselves with the seed of men, but they shall not cleave one to another,' the prophesy said. There have been numerous attempts to gind the nations of Europe together by martial alliances, but though these nations have remained as separate and antagonistic as before. For example, consider the fact that the kind of England and the late emperor of Germany, heads of nations which were bitter rivals before the war and more bitter antagonists during the war, are first cousins.

The Eternal Kingdom.

"But the important part of the prophecy, to which all the rest is but a prelude, lies in the statement that 'in the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.' This was signified in the dream by a stone smiting the image upon its feet, whereupon the whole image was immediately broken in pieces and swept away like chaff before the wind, while the stone 'became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.' A parallel text is found in the prophecy of Revelation, Ch. 11, V. 15, which reads: 'And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ, and he shall reign forever and ever.'

"We are living now, 'in the days of these kings.' We are in the time of the end, and the end is to come suddenly, as shown by the suddenness with which the stone smote the image upon its feet and accomplished its work of destruction. The serious question for each one of us to consider is, what would happen to me if this sudden sweeping away of earthly kingdoms should take place while I am living on the earth? The only right answer is such a manner of life as will fit us to have a part in the kingdom which is to succeed them—that fifth great universal kingdom which is to stand forever."

Mission In All Lands.

Elder V. O. Punches, secretary of the home missionary department of the Nebraska conference, reporting to the business session of the Adventists' assembly this morning, says that the organized movement of Seventh-day Adventists began in 1863. From the very beginning it has made its progress because of the activities of the laymen. The denomination is not taking back steps. Year by year it has gone on until today adventist missionaries are in every land. Such results have come because of the loyal support and earnestness of the lay members. To make the members of the layety more effective the Home Missionary department has been organized. The home missionary movement has grown along with the the several organizations until the entire field has been covered.

Chinese Missions.

"Adventist missions in China are prospering in spite of war conditions in that country," said Pastor O. A. Hall, thirteen years a missionary to the Chinese, in an address at Epworth park. He explained that the soldiers of both parties are underpaid, and that their wages are usually months in arrears. Frequently they desert, and form themselves into robber bands, and go through the country killing and looting and burning.

The Seventh-day Adventists now have nearly 200 white missionaries in China, who, with the aid of a large corp of native workers, are operating 300 mission stations, three hospitals, and 106 schools.

SPLIT OVER BONUS MEASURE LOOMING

Harding Again Declares He Will Veto Bill Without Sales Tax.

Promptly Told Congress Will Override and Pass It Again.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Republican leaders are fearful today that President Harding and congress are on the verge of an "open break" on the soldiers' bonus.

The president has again served notice that he will veto any bonus bill that does not provide specifically for the raising of revenue to finance the ex-service men's adjusted compensation. He has reiterated that he would prefer to have a sales tax written into the bill if one must be enacted.

The president has been informed in turn that congress will pass over his veto whatever bill the senate and house agree upon finally, if he decides to withhold his approval of it.

The president efpmasized his stand on the bonus as "final and decisive" at a week-end conference he had at the white house with Senator Lodge, the republican leader of the senate, and other administration spokesmen. He was just as frankly informed that a canvass of congress showed clearly and unmistakably that there would not be enough votes to sustain his veto once a bonus bill was passed.

Some republican leaders expressed the hope that the McCumber-Fordney bonus bill, which has been indorsed by the American Legion can be so amended as to secure the president's signature, but the undercurrent of opinion in congress is that in view of the overwhelming opposition to the sales tax in both senate and house there is not much chance of this being accomplished.

Although the senate is scheduled to tackle the bonus when it reconvenes Wednesday, following the three-day adjournment, the lack of a quorum due to the absence of senators on vacation trips may compel another adjournment until the following Monday.

Makes Canvass of Senate.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American legion, in a statement today declared a personal canvass on the bonus bill situation showed that a majority of the senate, including both parties favors the bill and is pledged for its passage.

Mr. MacNider predicted that the bonus bill which is slated for senate consideration beginning Wednesday would be passed by the senate this week and added:

"The American legion has absolute confidence in the good faith and integrity of the senators pledged to vote for the bill. It realizes that they believe in the justice of the cause of the soldier and knows that they will keep the faith they have pledged tand pass the bill now."

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR ENDING SHOP 'CRAFT TROUBLES

Opening of New Week Sees Industrial Sky Brighter, Officials Declare.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Clearing industrial skies ushered in the new week today, in the opinion of government officials in close touch with both rail and coal situations.

Production of coal will start this week in mines that have been idle for four months, and with the improved outlook for peace in the railway shopmen's strike, officials generally were confident that the end of this week will see industrial peace once more established.

Those who talked with President Harding over the week-end said the president was most optimistic over the industrial outlook and was well pleased with the manner in which his message to congress was received despite the volley of criticism shot at it by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The government plans no further step in the railroad situation until Wednesday's conference between the railway executives and strike leaders in New York reveals whether a basis of adjustment has been reached. Private advices received in Washington by senators and others, and relayed to the white house, indicate such a basis has been found and will be ratified on Wednesday.

B. M. Jewell, national director of the shopmen's strike, returned to the capital today to await the New York conference. He would not comment on the New York negotiations. Jewell said he did not expect to see President Harding again prior to the New York meeting on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, congress gave indication today of dealing deliberately with the president's suggestions for legislation in the coal industry. With the tariff bill in conference and the controversial bonus question next coming to bat, congress appeared in no hurry to enact Mr. Harding's recommendations into legislation.

In accordance with the president's suggestion congress will make no effort to amend the transportation act during this session of congress. To do do so would bring on a hectic fight that might tie congress in knots for weeks.

Labors' friends in congress of whom Senator La Follette, republican Wisconsin, is the leader, will bitterly oppose any legislation to give the railway labor board power to enforce its decisions and they will receive support from others who feel that the entire transportation act of 1920 was a blunder.

Samuel Gompers, leader of the present strike and labor spokesman, would welcome dissolution of the present transportation law.

SIOUX CITY GIRL SERIOUSLY SHOT

Nebraska Sheriff Mistakes Car For That of Gang of Auto Thieves.

Girl Thought Official Bandit Who Wanted to Hold Up Party.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 21.—Shot through the back when the automobile in which she was riding failed to halt at the sheriff's command, Miss Beatrice Ford, 20 year old dauther of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ford of Sioux City, is lying in a critical condition at the local hospital.

Mistaken for a party of automobile bandits, who were believed to have stolen a car at Ainsworth, Neb., and to have driven the machine towards O'Neill, Sheriff Peter Duffy of Holt county, accosted Miss Ford's machine at the outskirts of O'Neill shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

An unidentified youth from Norfolk, Neb., driver of the car, believed the sheriff to be a highwayman and refused to halt, whereupon Duffy fired two shots at the gasoline tank and tires of the fleeing machine, according to Herbert Ford, brother of the wounded girl.

Seeing one of the girls in the machine raise her arm in protection against the supposed "robber," Sheriff Duffy observed her shadow against the windshield and fired, believing that a gun was held in her hand, young Ford declared.

The bullets penetrated the back of the rear seat, one striking Miss Ford above the kidney.

The girl received first aid at O'Neill and was rushed on an early morning train to Sioux City.

To Blot Stain From a Noted Chieftain

ANADARKO, Okla., Aug. 21.—The Kiowa Indian Nation, living on the government reservation, here, will go on the warpath soon.

A verbal scalping expedition will be made on Washington members of the to be in an effect to secure the removal of the remains of their great war chief Satanta, buried in the Texas penitentiary cemetery at Huntville for reinterment in Oklahoma.

Satanto second high chief of the Kiowas during the Civil war and one of the most noted Indians of the southern plains country a half century ago, killed himself while confined in the Texas prison in 1878. He had been sent to the prison after being found guilty of murder in connection with the leading raid on a government supply train in North Texas in 1871. Seven white men and two of the raiding party were killed.

Satanta was tried in federal court at Jacksboro, Texas and sentenced to be hanged. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and later he was paroled. He was returned to prison for leading the last Kiowa outbreak in 1874. He killed himself by plunging from the second floor of the prison hospital.

Satanta was known as a great orator and Indian patriot.

NO STRIKE BY "BIG FOUR" MEN

Stone Says Sympathy Walkout By Train Unions Never Has Been Considered.

(Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 21.—There is no danger of the "Big Four" road transportation brotherhoods being drawn into a sympathic strike even should negotiations to end the strike of shop crafts workers fail.

This was the declaration made by Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, on their return to their homes here Sunday from New York and Washington, where for ten days they have attempted to mediate the shopmen's controversies.

Neither would comment on the progress of the negotiations. "I can't make any comment on the progress of the negotiations," Mr Stone said. "Too much has been said already."

"We are acting as mediators and mediators only prejudice their usefulness by talking," Mr. Robertson said. "I would rather not be asked to say anything until the conferences are over. I can't make any predictions now."

Asked what position the brotherhoods will be in if the negotiations fail, Mr. Stone said they "will be in the same position they were in before. The strike will simply go on."

"There never has been any sympathetic strike nor any considered," he continued. "There are safety laws to take care of the defective equipment, which would endanger the lives of brotherhood members and it will only be necessary to enforce those laws."

DENIES JEWELL WIRED ORDERS

Reported Chief Told Officials to Be Ready to Call Off the Strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21—Officers of the railway employes' department of the American federation of labor, today denied all knowledge of instructions reported sent by B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shop crafts, telling general chairmen to hold themselves in readiness to call off the strike. Shopcraft officials said it was impossible that Mr. Jewell could have sent the telegram reported received at Ardmore, Okla., last night by John Scaggs, who said he was the union representative at Gainesville, Tex.

"This is to serve notice to call together all members and hold them in readiness to return to their places ordered vacated by me July 1," read the telegram that was telephoned to an Ardmore newspaper from a man who said he was Scaggs. "We want no delay in getting back to our jobs. We are confident the call will not be later than Monday." The message had Mr. Jewell's name signed to it and was addressed to all general chairmen of the federated shop crafts.

Shopcrafts officials at strike headquarters here said that in case a decision was reached to call off the strike, it would not be according to union procedure for Mr. Jewell to send such a telegram and even had he sent it, it would have been in code or would have been preceded by code messages. The name of the man who said he received the message is not listed among the general chairmen, John Scott, secretary of the federated shop crafts, said.

BIG DRIVE TO SWING VOTERS

Political Leaders Will Woo Absentee With Unusual Ardor This Fall.

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug 21—The "absent voter" is wooed with unusual ardor this year by political leaders.

Hundreds of thousands of voters, temporarily absent from their homes, are being urged to register for the November elections, and to vote by mail if it is impossible for them to return home in time. Nearly a score of states have "absent voting" laws, which provide in detail for the registration and voting of citizens who are for the time being, exiles from their home commonwealth.

Many thousands of these absent voters live in Washington where they are employed in government departments. But they are not confined to the capitol. Many of them are college students, traveling men, and professional people whose occupations take them away from home a great deal.

The reason for the unusual efforts being put forth to line up all these exiles, so that they will be counted in November, lies in something which forced itself on the attention of the politicians following the recent Indiana senatorial primary, and which has been repeated elsewhere since.

Senator New's managers suggested an intensive effort to line up all absent Indiana republicans so that they could vote in the primary, the presumption being that, if they were assisted by New's workers they would be likely to vote for New. New, hoever, did not think the effort necessary. The absent voters, it turned out, might have turned the scale in his favor, and against his successful rival, A. J. Beveridge.

Other close primaries, and the new menace of the woman vote, which has politicians everywhere guessing, have made it needful, the practical politicans agree, to get everybody lined up who can possibly be counted on to help.

The citizens away from home seldom take the trouble to register and vote by mail, largely because it involves filling out several sets of forms and in most cases the voters don't even know where to get the necessary papers. Hence the congressional committees with headquarters here have taken the matter in charge and after making up lists of absent voters are canvassing them, furnishing them the necessary blanks, seeing that they fill them out and mail them. A considerable force is necessary to do this as three or four calls sometimes must be made on each voter.

LAYMEN EVINCING GREATER ACTIVITY

Taking a More Helpful Part In Lutheran Church Work.

North Nebraska District Elects Officers Monday Afternoon.

(Special to The Star.)

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—The Lutheran church of today, more particularly the synodical conference with its largest constituent body the Missouri synod is entering into a new era, due to the more active participation on the part of the laymen in the actual work of the church," said The Eckhardt of the St. Louis, financial secretary of the general body of twenty-six districts, in his address to the Lutheran state convention here. He said:

"The laymen mentioned in the letters of St. Paul to the Corinth, Philippi and other apostolic congregations are a constant reminder of what the man in the pew, we laymen, can and must do. The present renewed interest on the part of the laity is noticeable in the home congregation as also in the general activities of the church at large. The Lutheran business man with business ideas, acumen and keen analysis of conditions, true to his convictions and guided by the ideals and principles of the Bible is replacing the staid old-timer with little to say and less to do.

"Instances of this renewed activity on the part of all classes farmers, mechanics, and business men are the Lutheran Laymen league and the American Luther league, who assist the synod and the local congregations along financial and educational lines.

"The plan to build up a laymen's organization parallel to the clergy conferences has been in operation for one year and is making good headway. Every congregation elects a layman to a circuit lay conference of about ten men; each circuit sends one representative to the state district laymen's organization and this body from each state sends one representative to the triennial meeting at the time and place of the delegate synod. A greater knowledge and consequent interest and a united support of the general activities of the church, colleges, seminaries, home and foreign missions, support of incapacitated veterans of the cross, etc."

In his Saturday lecture on Bible doctrine Rev. W. Mahler presented the third of his series of four theses. Summarizing it is said: "The means for bringing justification to man are, first, the means of presenting and offering, namely the gospel and the two sacraments as the only source of knowledge regarding God's good and gracious will; and second, the receiving hand namely faith. Sanctification or holiness of life flowing from love to God and the fellowman is not a part, but a result of faith effected by the gospel contained in word and sacraments."

The North Nebraska delegations meet Monday afternoon in separate session at the First church. Pastor L. Acker, to receive the report of the committee for incorporation of the newly formed district resolved upon Saturday. The South Platte district retains its present organization and incorporation. The president and other officers and mission board are elected for the north district at this meeting.

As probable candidates for the presidency are mentioned the pastors G. Wolter, H. Miessler, J. Holstein, M. Adam.

FAIRBURY—Since the Jefferson county fair association has acquired a permanent home in Fairbury the merchants are constructing a substantial building in 27x55 feet, to exhibit their wares. The work begins at once and will be completed by Sept. 21 the opening day of the county fair. The building will cost $1,000 and will located west of Agriculture hall.

Drilling For Oil Begins At Chadron

(Special to The Star.)

CHADRON, Neb., Aug. 21.—Chadron people are determined to know whether oil underlies this portion of the state and with this end in view have again begun boring in the supposed oil fields north of the city. The drilling is being done under the supervision of the Midwest Oil company and is to be done by experienced men. When the job is finished there will be no doubt as to the existence or non-existence of oil in this field. In the meantime there is no unusual excitement and the people are keeping their feet on the ground.

Says Wife Abuses His Little Ones

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—Claiming that his wife abused his three children and locked them from his home, Max Brody, a painter, 2511 Franklin street, called at the police station, leading a 3-year-old child, and asked relief for his children. He was referred to the Humane society authorities.

"Ever since the war, when my wife heard of atrocities committed against the Russians, she has abused my children. She sends all of my money, nearly $40 a week, to her parents in Russia, who she says are starving. When I objected to sending all of our savings to the old country she became abusive and mistreated the children," Brody told police.

"When I came home tonight with my son, David, 3, she locked the door and would not let us in. We shall spend the night with friends," he said, departing.

Shooting Victim Vanishes After He Leaves Hospital

OMAHA, Neb., 21.—Thomas Norton, a rancher of Buffalo Wyo., was the victim of a mysterious shooting which occurred near Eighteenth and Douglas streets early Saturday morning, according to information received by police late aSturday.

Norton was found in St. Catharine's hospital with two bullet wounds, neither serious. He left the hospital at noon, saying he would return, but early Saturday evening had not appeared.

Although Norton's identity has not been definitely established his name is thought by police to be W. Martin of St. Louis, Mo., who checked from the hotel yesterday. The man Norton left St. Catherine's hospital Saturday noon, telling officials that he would return Saturday night for further treatment. He had not returned at a late hour last night.

The shooting is said to have occurred in the Douglas street entrance to the grill at the Fontenelle hotel, when Emmet Whitstruck, white porter living north of Omaha, fired his gun five times toward the ground after, it is alleged, he had been attacked by Martin and a companion when he ordered them to move from the entrance.

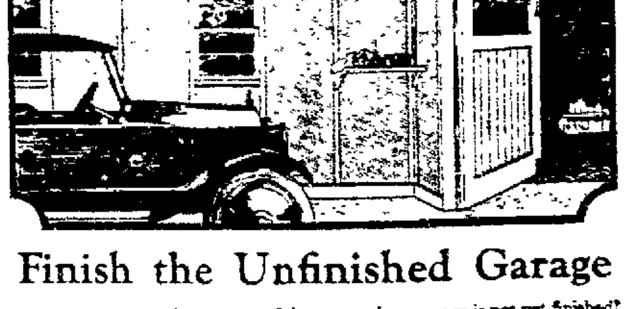
Whitstruck, who was discharged by the hotel management, could not be located last night.

Detectives Danbaum and Palmtag, assigned to the case, refused to discuss the incident, referring newspapermen to Chief of Detectives Van Deusen.

Duncan Commander of Omaha Troops

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—Brigadier General George B. Duncan has arrived to assume command of the Seventh Infantry brigade with headquarters at Fort Omaha. eGneral Duncan holds the distinguished service medal and was the first general officer in the A. E. F. to be wounded in battle.

General Duncan called on Major General Francis Kernan commander of the Seventh corps area, and Mayor James C. Dahlman Saturday. He was graduated from West Point in 1886.



Finish the Unfinished Garage

Are you one of the many whose garage is not yet finished? Don't forget one of the really essential parts of its construction—the interior.

You can easily protect your car from the cold of winter nights, and make your garage a cooler place to work in on hot summer afternoons. Richardson Wall Board will take care of that, for its strong, close fibre forms a panel that is positive insulation against heat and cold.

And this clean, durable interior finish keeps dust and dirt from the surface of the car as well.

RICHARDSON Wall Board

The Richardson Company has no fancy ideas as to the price you should pay for good wall board. Quantity production and the skill of over 50 years' manufacturing experience account for its extremely low price.

Richardson Wall Board is completely sized inside and out, and requires only a small amount of paint for a really fine finish. And the cost of board for the average one-car garage is under $25.00. You need not figure labor cost, for you will enjoy nailing these big panels in place yourself in some spare time.

Telephone us today, and we'll gladly tell you how little it will cost to make this worth-while improvement. And remember there is a wide variety of other uses for Richardson Wall Board.

Knox County Citizens Would Abolish the Township System.

(Special to The Star.)

BLOOMFIELD, Neb., Aug. 21.—Petitions asking that the question of changing the county system of government from the supervisor to commissioner system be submitted to the voters at the coming election are being circulated all over Knox county and, it is reported, they are being liberally signed. The county board of supervisors met last week to fix the date 1922 tax levy and the meeting was attended by taxpayers from all over the county. These were in attendance to see if some method could not be evolved whereby the excessive taxes could be pared down.

So far as getting any facts is concerned, the taxpayers might as well have remained at home for the county board informed the information seekers that they themselves did not know how many bills were on file for payment nor how much these bills represented; and that if the inquirers wanted to know real badly they could go to the county officers and figure it out for themselves. The sum of $15,000 was cut from the 1921 levy which was considered small relief indeed. Much dissatisfaction exists all over the county and it is said that when the vote on the proposition is taken there will be a vast majority in favor of making the change to the commissioner system.

Fiftieth Weding Anniversary Is Largely Attended

(Special to The Star.)

TABLE ROCK, Neb., Aug. 21.—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Spaulding was celebrated at their home northeast of Humboldt by a large gathering of relatives and friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spalding were born in Marysville, Ky. They were married in August 1872, coming to Nebraska in 1882 and settled at Dason. They were the parents of eight children, two dying in infancy. The six children who were all present, presented their mother with a gold ring and their father with a gold watch, and friends gave them a $5 gold piece. Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding have fourteen grandchildren and one great grand child.

Richly Appointed Narcotic Parlor Raided By Police

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 21.—Almost in the heart of the business district Police Sergeant Frank Williams Saturday uncovered an alleged narcotic parlor with pearl inlaid furniture and oriental rugs and confiscated $5,000 worth of morphine and $1,000 worth of bonded whisky. The scene of the raid is 1907 Douglas street.

As keeper of the place Sergeant Williams' squad arrested Ernest Mallory.

The alleged narcotic parlor was found on the second floor of a building.

Garage and Auto Destroyed By Fire

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 21.—A short circuit on the Overland car belonging to Harvey Andreas, traveling man is supposed to have started a fire in W. A. Ransdell's garage last night which destroyed the building and the machine. Loss is estimated at $1,500 with no insurance. The car was driven into the building ten minutes before the fire broke out. There was 100 gallons of gasoline in the garage but it was saved.

No Arrests Made Following Raid On Foster's Office

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—No arrests had been made today as the result of the raid yesterday of the offices of the Trade Union Educational league in which private papers and letters of Willia mZ. Foster, propagandist of the "One Big Union" idea, were taken.

The raid followed news of the wrecking of a Michigan Central Express train near Gary, Ind.

Assistant State's Attorney William J. McLaughlin said today that some of the papers seized in the raid bared inside information on the "One Big Union" propaganda for railroad workers.

Foster, who has been on a speaking tour of the middle-west is not in the city but it reported to have been at Joliet, where he has been working among the striking railroad shopmen.

Aged Ranchmen Disagree and "Shoot It Out"

UKIAH, Cal., Aug. 21.—Mendocino county authorities today endeavored to unravel the details of a gun battle in which Isaac Crespin, 70, and John Haynes, 60, ranch neighbors, ended long feud by "shooting it out." The two pioneer settlers met, it is believed by arrangement at Mountain View school house in a remote section of the county. Both were armed with rifles. Haynes according to reports to the sheriff, succeeded in fatally wounding Crespin, whereupon the feud was taken up by Leo Batt, Crespin's son-in-law who is alleged to have killed Mr. Haynes. Mrs. Batt witnessed the battle and is reported to have endeavored to stop it. The feud started over a gate erected by Haynes across a road used by the Crespins in gaining access to their ranch.

WAR LORD HURLS DEFY AT BRITISH

Manchu Tuchun Threatens Boycott of English Business Men at Mukden.

Charges Foreigners Have Not Played Square With Factions In China.

(Associated Press.)

PEKIN, Aug. 21.—Grave alarm is felt by British subjects throughout Manchuria over the threat of Chang Tso-Lin, governor of the province, to withhold his protection of British lives and property in reprisal for what he calls British contempt of his authority. Chang declares the Manchurians are contemplating a boycott of British business and says he will not be responsible for action taken by the people if the present methods of British subjects in Manchuria continue.

On August 12, Chang invited several American and British merchants to his headquarters in Mukden. There in the presence of the Americans, he bitterly attacked the Britons. He made three specific charges against the British.

First, he declared that in the war between himself and Wu Pei-Fu, the northern military leader who defeated Chang and revived the old republican parliament, Manchurian soldiers were killed with bombs hurled from British airplanes.

Second, Chang charges, the British have been opposing his seizure of the railroad extending from Shang Hai Kwan to Mukden whereas they have not protested the capture of Pekin by Wu Pei-Fu nor the seizure of the Hankow railroad by him. In the third instance, Chang asserted the British were opposing his seizure of the salt revenues of Manchuria, thus discriminating in favor of other tuchuns who hold revenues.

"If you continue to treat me with contempt," Chang told the British merchants, "I cannot longer be responsible for protecting you, and as for your goods, a severe boycott will be set up as a negative form of opposition."

If the British methods did not change, he said "the negative form of opposition would become a positive one and the physical forces of several millions people will combine and enter into the struggle."

Chang declared he intended to address a telegram to the king of England complaining of the methods of the British subjects in Manchuria.

It is supposed that the Americans were invited merely to hear what Chang had to say.

It is understood the British legation here has instituted an investigation of the matter preparatory to entering a protest.

FEARS RESULTS OF FLAPPERISM

English Editor Says Modern Woman Is Driving Men to Celibacy.

Declares "Emancipation" Has Gone Too Far For Good of the Race.

(International News Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Modern woman is driving man into celibacy.

This startling indictment against the women of the flapper age was made today by Francis Henry Gribble, critic and novelist and one of the best known publicists in Great Britan.

Modern woman, according to Mr. Gribble, is robbed of her mystery and therefore the desire of man to marry her is passed.

There is no question that the mystery in which women used to be wrapped was a romantic assert and a provocative challenge which sometimes lead men to propose marriage to woman whom they certainly would not have wished to marry if they had known them better, said Mr. Gribble.

He added:

"Emancipation of woman does not merely mean that chaperones have been discarded as obsolete. That, perhaps, was all that it meant at first, but, it has gradually come to mean, in many cases, a freedom of manner and a laxity of morals so pronounced that the clergy of all degrees and denominations have been moved to protest. And that sort of thing, little as the women who laugh at these protests may supect it, has distinct bearing upon their prospect of marriage.

"And for an obvious reason. The seriously demosetical man will not have for his wife the type of girl who has made too free with the conventions in her 'desire to live.' She has set tongues wagging by her indiscretions—and no man likes his wife to be the subject of such gossipy recollections.

The other type of man, who is frankly cynical, considers that marriage has little but responsibility to offer and therefore remains single. The practical result is that many men who might otherwise marry young to gratify their desire for what Gribbon called 'a domestic female companion,' now postpones marriage and are content to pursue romantic adventures with the attractively unconventional birls of today.'

Editor Gribble fears that "emancipation of women already has gone too far for the good of the human race and argues that if carried to its logical conclusion "flapperism" may mean depopulation.

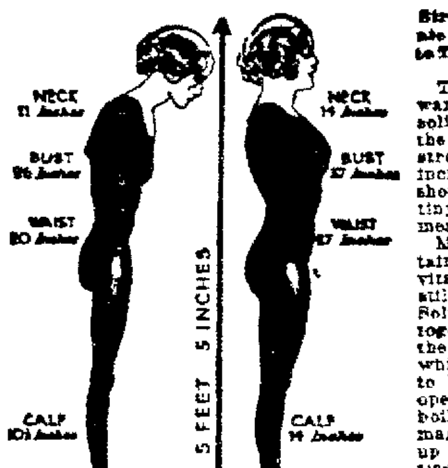
Keeps Hair In Curl On Hot or Windy Days

Here's a hair curling secret that is decidedly "worth while." Just apply a little liquid silmerine before doing up the hair, using a clean tooth brush for the purpose, drawing this down the hair from crown to tip. In three hours you will have as beautiful curls and waves as you could wish for. The waviness will look so natural no one will guess it was artificially acquired. And it will last ever so long regardless of heat, wind or dampness.

You can obtain liquid silmerine at any drug store and a few ounces will last a long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy and is pleasant to use. It is doubly useful because of also serving as a beneficial dressing, keeping the hair soft, silky and lustrous. It's fine for both long and bobbed hair.—Advertisement.

How Mastin's Vitamon Tablets Put Flesh On Thin Folks



Strengthen the Nerves and Invigorate the Body—Easy and Economical to Take—Results Surprisingly Quick.

Thin or run-down folks who want to quickly get some good, firm, solid flesh on their bones, fill out the hollows and sunken cheeks with strong, healthy tissue and build up increased energy and vitality should try taking two of MASTIN'S tiny Vitamon Tablets with their meals.

MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets contain highly concentrated yeast-vitamines, as well as the two other still more important vitamines (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C) together with true organic iron and the necessary lime salts, all of which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed. They seem to banish pimples, boils and skin eruptions as if by magic, strengthen the nerves, build up the body with firm flesh and tissue and often completely rejuvenate the whole system. Here is a simple test which will quickly show just what MASTIN'S Vitamon should do for you: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take MASTIN'S Vitamon—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story.

Be sure to remember the name MASTIN'S Vitamon—the original and genuine yeast-vitamine tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes. You can get MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets at all good druggists such as

FARMERS UNION TO HAVE PICNIC

Big Time Anticipated At State Farm Wednesday of This Week.

The Lancaster County Farmers union is making extensive preparations for the big picnic, which is to be held at the State farm on the afternoon and evening of next Wednesday, August 23. The festivities will begin with a picnic dinner at noon, followed by a concert by the Holland band at 1 o'clock. Irene Hiatt will give a reading, after which the assemblage will be addressed by Prof. H. Clyde Filley of Lincoln.

One of the big events will be a baseball game between the Farmers union all-star team from the south end of the county under the captaincy of Earl Ringland and a similar team from the south end of the county with J. Rex Wilson as captain. Following this will be foot races and other athletic contests. The Holland band will give another concert at 5:30 p. m.

A general invitation is extended to everybody to attend this picnic and thus make this a banner day for the Farmers union of the county.

YOUR NEBRASKA.

The state department of agriculture has issued a bulletin (No. 120) which should be read by every Nebraskan. It is a brief summary of the wealth of Nebraska agriculture and contains any number of facts which the loyal Nebraskan should have on the tip of his tongue. For instance, every Nebraskan should know that his state is the greatest alfalfa producing state in the union. Not only is the alfalfa acreage greater but no state produces as much of it. For the past five years Nebraska has averaged nearly 3,000,000 tons.

Loyal Nebraskans should also know that as a corn state Nebraska ranks third both in acreage and production. During the period, 1917-1921, the Nebraskan corn crop has averaged near 190,000,000 bu. and has an average valuation of $156,856,808. Although Nebraska is proudest of her corn production, her wheat production is not to be scorned. This state ranks third in yield per acre and --- four states plant more wheat. Over one hundred mills grind 14,000,000 bushels of wheat annually. The value of the Nebraska wheat crop for the last three years has averaged $90,688,729 a year.

As in alfalfa, Nebraska ranks first among the states in production of prairie hay. There are nearly two and one-half millions of land in the state on which prairie hay grows. The average yearly production, for the past five years, has been 2,357,700 tons, valued at $29,428,000.

The production of potatoes and sugar beets are two items not to be overlooked. The annual potato production, for past five years, has been 8,775,625 bu. This does not include the 1922 yield, which has been one of the biggest and most successful in history. The average number of acres devoted to potatoes, for the period 1917 to 1921, was 103,525, valued at $8,207,869. The value of the sugar beet industry is about the same as for potatoes, or, to be exact, $5,587,000 yearly. There is only one other state in the union that raises more beets per acre than Nebraska. In total acreage and production, the state ranks fifth.

A very fortunate fact regarding the crop production in Nebraska is that a large proportion of it is consumed within the borders of the state. The beef cattle and dairy interests, the hogs and chickens, use a very large percentage of th grains grown here. Almost equally important is the fact that the cattle are being constantly improved in strain, there being 74,174 pure-bred registered beef cattle in Nebraska, according to the 1920 census. The dairy industry is growing rapidly and to quote one paragraph from the department's bulletin: "The dairy cow occupies an important position in the production of Nebraska's wealth. Dairy animals kept on 80,470 farms produce milk and cream to the average of $30,000,000 annually. Since the cow furnishes 18 per cent of the diet of the average American family, a large part is consumed in the homes of the producers, but the marketed portion brings in a cash revenue of $18,000,000 per year." It is interesting to note that the railroads of the state handle 12,000,000 gallons of cream annually.

The 1920 census estimates the number of hogs in Nebraska as three and one-half million with a total valuation of $75,000,000. In case of porkers as well as cattle, there is a steady increase in the number of pure bred stock, there now being some 112,502 head, thus making the state rank fifth in population of pure-bred swine.

When one realizes that Nebraska has an annual income of $36,000,000 from her chickens and eggs, one will recognise the fact that the humble hen has a place in the sun. It is estimated that 16,000,000 fowls are raised every year and fully 50,000,000 dozen eggs produced.

It is the knowledge of the commonwealth's resources on the farm which makes loyal Nebraskans. People of Nebraska should be proud of the fact that the state ranks first in the union in alfalfa and wild hay, that the state ranks third in corn and fifth in wheat and sugar beets. They should know that Nebraska-grown potatoes are considered the finest seed potatoes for use in the southern potato-growing states. To know these facts about the products of Nebraska soil and to have a conception of the unlimited field of possibilities in stock raising, dairying, hog and poultry raising, inspires loyalty for the state just as knowledge of the nation's history inspires patriotism.

THE WORLD'S GOODWILL.

[illegible] the casual reader of these columns must know that this newspaper has always believed the most direct route to world stability lies in the co-operation of America, the richest, most powerful and wealthiest of nations, with the war-ridden nations of Europe. Membership in the league of nations is the logical course to pursue to attain this degree of co-operation.

The Minneapolis Journal, a foe of the league, unwittingly pleads world co-operation in an editorial which, though somewhat lengthy, is worthy of reading. It presents a series of forceful arguments why this country should enter the league, and yet lacks either the foresight or the conviction of opinion to endorse the entry of the United States into the league. Says the Minneapolis newspaper:

"The United States stands at the height of her power. Her strength is enormous, her wealth incalculable, her prestige world-wide. In eighteen months of warfare she developed a force that amazed the nations and surprised even herself. Today she is the envy of the earth and the peoples turn to her to lead the way.

"None would be so foolish as to challenge her. And apparently the future is hers, in the sense that her power is but commenced and that in industry and the arts, in the things that constitute material prosperity and social welfare, she holds all the trumps. The grave weaknesses that menace other states, the serious doubts concerning their futures, do not compromise hers. The United States seems unhampered by fate and unopposed in her destiny.

"Yet the moment of greatest success is the moment of danger. That is the hour when best counsel should prevail. But the worst counsel threatens, because pride and presumption, as well as negligence and lack of deep consideration, are likeliest. Time and again nations at the summit of their good fortune have taken the wrong turn, either by election or through heedlessness.

"The United States in a century and a half has built up an economy continental in extent and richer than was ever dreamed of. It is her own work, yet in the business she has hitherto had the aid and good will of Europe, expressed in capital and man-power alike. Millions of Europeans have come over to contribute their muscular and mental energy, and hundreds of millions of dollars of capital have come in the shape of investment.

"We are not self-sufficient, we are not independent of the world's good will, enormous as our national economy has become. We may be more self-sufficient than any nation has ever been, but we do not constitute an exemption from the law of civilisation that renders each part, polifical and enoconimc, related to the other parts and dependent upon the whole.

"The Montreal Gazette in an editorial concerning those relations remarks:

> "The United States stands to lose her European markets by a policy of usury, because neither Germany nor France, Italy nor Austria can buy freely, if they are denied the means of restoring their credit and credit and giving value to their currency.

"In addition, I should be considered that Europe will not in the future be as dependent upon America for materials as she was during the Nineteenth century. Rival storehouses of foodstuffs and materials are developing in South America, Africa, Austria.

"If we refuse to admit the flood of immigrants, as we must, another tie between Europe and ourselves is snapped.

"The fact is, new conditions obtain throughout the world, demanding revisions in our material policies. Really broad and far-seeing statesmanship is required for the United States at this hour as perhaps never before, since Washington and Hamilton defined the initial policies. Provincial outlook may no longer suffice us, nor the mere liberal following of narrowly righteous legality.

"The truth is that this very day that sees the United States come to an unexampled pitch of power and riches beholds a shift in world conditions no longer so favorable to America as were the years of the last century. We are not speaking of military menace—such is the last thing we need to fear. What we need to fear is rather the forfiture of the economic good will of the world. And that is precisely what our present policy at Washington, backed as it is by the apparent conviction of our people, is calculated to do."

The United States, no less than a score of other nations, is at the turning of the ways. The world entered a new era and all the old policies and systems have been tourn asunder. The question which we must ask ourselves is, What are we going to do? Three years ago the United States senate decided that we would isolate ourselves from the rest of the world and become a self-sufficient nation. We repudiated our representatives of international matters and scorned Europe. We have paid the cost of this fallacious policy and now we are slowly arriving at the realization that we must cooperate. But why hasn't the Minneapolis Journal, and other newspapers and statesmen the courage of their convictions? Why will they not speak that which is surely in their hearts? Bitterness and prejudice are the diseases which flourish in politics.

"This is the happiest day of my life," remarked Ganna Walska just after the marriage ceremony had made her the wife of Harold McCormick. Ganna is probably getting pretty good about saying that noble sentence and besides, maybe she was happier than when she said it the other three times.

"If Haridng 'passes the buck' to congress, where does congress pass it to?" asks the Des Moines Register. Well, since March, 1921, it has been passing it back to the president.

Remember when all a screen star had to do to act was to produce artificial tears in close-up scenes? Say what you will, there has been some improvement.

The president didn't exactly tell congress how to end the strike menace, but he pointed it out to that able group of men.

A little more weather like this and step-ladders will be needed all right to shuck the 1922 Nebraska corn crop.

Mrs. Bill Hart alleges cruelty in her divorce petition. Bill probably did his rehearsing at home.

It's been a hard summer for "the best minds."

More Truth than Poetry

BY S. E. KISER

A BIRTH RATE THAT NEVER DECLINES.

THERE IS ONE BORN EVERY MINUTE

The foolish people never seem to learn
By hearing of the fate of other fools;
Unwise men still are spending all they earn,
The reckless go on fooling with edged tools;
The foolish driver cannot learn to wait,
But tries to beat the engine to the gate.

Whenever ponies run there's some one who
Walks sadly homeward when the racing's done;
We hear of some one every day or two
Who played unwisely with a rusty gun;
Men keep on taking medicine at night,
And, after it's too late, turn on the light.

Still swimmers like to show how brave they are
By taking chances that they need not take;
The stranger with the sporty looking car
Finds girls who venture for adventure's sake;
Men still establish lovenests here and there,
And think their wives will never know or care.

Young speculators cannot seem to learn
That miracles are seldom brought about;
They keep right on expecting to return
The stolen cash before they get found out,
And every little while some foolish cove
Hides all his hard-earned savings in a stove.

The foolish will not learn by being told,
The foolishness, it seems, is never checked;
The fortune teller's palm is crossed with gold,
The scolding woman's happiness is wrecked;
If all the fools gained wisdom bit by bit
The devil soon would close his place and quit.

Are you neglecting to appreciate what you do possess and losing the degree of happiness you might enjoy all because there is something you want that you cannot have?

No matter what good times you may have, no matter how large your income grows, and your good health continues, yet you are always a bit depressed, or a shade peeved, because of one thing you want and have not got.

It may not be always the same thing you want, but it is something lacking, in your estimation, in everything you do or undertake.

You rob yourself of complete or full enjoyment because your mind thinks of something it did not get to make perfect pleasure.

Wealth does not make for perfect enjoyment, but you may think it does.

You have gotten many things in your life that you wished for and finally possessed, but possession did not bring happiness.

And always it is thus, that the unobtainable seems to be the treasure sought.

Better reform now, for health is the priceless possession, and a dissatisfied mind and heart injures the physical being.

Get all the wholesome pleasure you can, here and now, with what you have.

The Big Tent.

"Who's Who in America"—1922-1923.
The show is ready to begin,
The people all have passed the wickets;
The journalists came bustling in—
They entered gratis on press tickets.

The movie actresses are there,
They all came in upon their faces;
They gave the man a baby stare
And hurried on to find their places.

The profs were early in the tent,
And not a penny did they pay;
They overlooked the ticket gent
(You know their absentminded way.)

The lawyers, as you would expect,
Are there with large pluralities,
The gateman struggled to collect,
But lost on technicalities.

The parsons passed by courtesy,
The which their well know clothes surrounds;
The M. D.s entered without fee—
There must be doctors on the grounds.

Here's little Andy Volstead. Gee!
They ought to stop him but they can't;
He carries water, don't you see?
For the G. O. P. elephant.

The show is ready to begin.
But you and I have got the air.
Well' I'm not crazy to get in,
With all those deadheads sitting there.

THE CITY AGRICULTURIST.

In the early morn, e'er the sun is hot,
I fare me forth to my back lot
And swing my hoe so merrily.
An enemy of weeds am I,
Their willing efforts I defy,
As I whistle so airily.

There, tender plants, row after row,
Break through the earth and start to grow—
I hoe among them carefully;
I stir the soil around each root,
And watch, for insect pest, each shoot;
I view their progress prayerfully.

For, from experience, well I know,
There may be many a lurking foe,
Who would devour them speedily;
And if a bug, on plant, I find,
He, doubtless, deems me most unkind,
I end his life so speedily.

Thus, in my cherished garden spot
Each morn, I work, e'er it is hot—
I take my labor seriously.
Now, purse your lips to get the twist,
I'm a "city agriculturist"—
(Why laugh you so deliriously?)

To term it thus, it seems to me,
Adorns me with a dignity—
Perhaps I talk conceitedly.
But "city gardener" won't do,
And "Backyard farmer" I eschew—
I've stated this repeatedly.

No "tiller of the soil" for me,
It sounds too much like poetry—
And I work so laboriously.
So put me down upon your list,
As a "city agriculturist"—
(Again, you laugh uproariously.

RIGHTEOUSNESS EXALTETH.

(Theodore Roosevelt.)

Those who tell the Americans of the future what the Americans of today and yesterday have done, will perforce tell much that is unpleasant. This is but saying that they will describe the arch-typical civilisation of this age. Nevertheless, when the tale is finally told, I believe that it will show that the forces working for good in our national life outweigh the forces working for evil, and that, with much halting and turning aside from the path, we shall yet in the end prove our faith by our works, and show in our lives our belief that righteousness exalteth a nation.

Einstein at the Bar of the Eclipsed Sun

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS,
Noted Astronomer and Writer on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

On September 21st a total eclipse of the sun will be visible along a "shadow path," over a hundred miles in average width, and running from the northeastern corner of Africa, south of the Red Sea, across the Indian ocean and the continent of Australia to a point in the Pacific ocean north of New Zealand. The eclipse will not be visible on our side of the globe because that side happens to be turned away from the sun during the time that the moon is exactly between it and the earth.

This eclipse possesses extraordinary interest for the reason that during its period of totality, which is unusually long, amounting to more than five minutes at some of the places along the shadow path where observers will be stationed, photographs will be made for the special purpose of testing decisively the light of a star passing close to the sun accords exactly with the Einstein theory of relativity and thus serves as a proof of the correctness of that theory.

While Einstein's theory meets with enthusiastic acceptance from mathematical grounds, it has been, if not absolutely rejected, at least seriously questioned by many astronomers and physicists The theory itself is not capable of statement except in terms of mathematics and by disregarding the most evident realities of the sensual world. How far it lies from the actualities of human experience is strikingly indicated by the fact that some of its most conspicuous advocates have seriously drawn upon the amusing futilities of the extravaganza called "Alice in Wonderland" for illustrations of the kind of world, or universe, in which, if we accept Einstein's ideas, we must regard ourselves as living.

Now, the relativity of motion in itself is nothing new, and nobody ever thought of disputing it. It was not discovered by Einstein, but it simply served him as a starting point for his mathematical speculations. The peculiarity of his theory—and what may prove to be its fatal weakness—is that it seems to be practically unprobable, by any verifiable facts in the domain of physics. Einstein himself has admitted that it has only three material legs to stndd on, and that if these fall, he does not know whither to turn in search of verification.

The three legs are: First, the deviation of light passing near the sun, or other very massive body; second, certain slight peculiarities in planetary motion illustrated by the movement of the perihelion of Mercury, and third, a shift of the lines of the solar spectrum toward the red end.

One of these, the last just mentioned, has never even been established, and it remains purely speculative, all observations made to test it having given negative, or contradictory, results. Verification of the first two has been claimed, but in both cases it is disputed. With regard to the motion of the perihelion of Mercury, not only do some astronomers maintain that other known causes sufficiently account for it, but it has been affirmed that Einstein's own calculations prove inconsistent with themselves when applied to other planets. There remains the first leg, viz., the deviation of light in a powerful gravitational field—like that of the sun.

It has been stoutly maintained that the photographs taken during a preceding eclipse, in 1919, proved the validity of Einstein's claim. But on that occasion some photographs which gave directly contrary evidence were arbitrarily rejected on more or less plausible grounds, and this has remained a bone of contention, which, it is hoped, may be removed by the result of the observations to be made at the coming eclipse. If on the other hand the results on this occasion are definitely opposed to the Einstein theory, a possibly fatal blow will be dealt to it, at least in the minds of all except those who hold it on the ground of pure mathematical theory, scorning all physical basis, or limitations.

It should not be supposed that the deviation of a light ray passing close to the sun is something that cannot be explained except upon Einstein's theory. So far is this from being true that Newton's theory of gravitation perfectly accounts for the phenomenon, except that it makes the amount of the deviation just half as much as Einstein's theory calls for. Now, it is a most singular that some of the photographs taken at the former eclipse, but rejected, showed a deviation accordant with Newton's instead of with Einstein's theory. No wonder, then, that astronomers are eager on this occasion to get the most exact and accurate results that can possibly be obtained. The process, in principle, is very simple—merely to photograph the stars seen near the hidden sun, comparing their positions afterward with those on photographs of the same part of the sky made at night with the sun absent.

Dreams of the Blind.

(Scientific American.)

Since Freud's studies on dreams, the interest shown in this psychological phenomenon has grown considerably. We recognize the state of unconsciousness with its limitless possibilities of association as the source of dream fantasies and we know that the state of consciousness narrows the range of our view and just confines us to a world which is perceptible to our senses. In our waking hours, in every intercourse with our fellow men, we criticize our every thought continually ask ourselves whether we ought to do this, that or the other thing, whether we will be blamed for doing something that we ought to do or for neglecting to do something that we should: we seem to depend greatly on the good will and opinion of our neighbors. In the dream state every thing is permissible. We kill those we hate, others we crown, we play the millionaire or the beggar; we step from the tower to the ground and then back again to the tower; the most impossible is possible in countless variations, deeds are much more variegated and filled with much deeper meaning than in our conscious state. The artist in us awakens when we sleep.

The most remarkable characteristic of the dream is found in the optical pictures, that roll before us in kinemtographic fashion, pictures of rare phenomena of no reality in hallucinatory acts. In dreams we are paranoiacs with abnormal imaginative powers; we multiply everything by 1,000 and place ourselves, our own ego, in the center of the world.

The most primitave sort of dream is the one in which the wish is realized. The child obtains the toy most longed for in its dream. As it grows older and disillusions and disappointments crowd one another in life, the dream takes another form; it becomes the dream of anxiety and later all the passions become sources of dreams. The play of the passions takes plastic form in pictures, less often in sounds and only very seldom in hallucinations of taste and odor. The fact that sensations of touch are so rarely of any significance in dreams while in our waking state we are constantly making use of this sense, must appear very remarkable to us. Our fantasies are stimulated mostly by optical and acoustic sensations.

Consequently it was at first very astonishing to hear blind people tell of dreams in which the sensation of touch was pre-eminent. They are difficult to describe, because we are unforunately accumstomed to perceive almost everything opticaly dislike exceedingly to abandon this agent of interpretation of experience. In this manner the blind person dreams of a ficticious battle in which he plays the principal role. This is the same sort of a dream that is experienced by a normal person, but with the difference that no element in the dream is sensed optically, but only through touch.

Only those born blind dream exclusively of touch sensations. Those who become blind in after life, who are forced to exchange their optical conception of the world's panorama for one in which the sensation of touch plays the dominant part, experience dreams of a corresponding nature. That is, the optical dreams are mixed with dreams in which the touch sensation prevails, but finally they are entirely displaced by the latter. The dreams of the blind have been found to be full of life, a fact which cannot be made to jibe with experimental psychological investigations. A paradoxical condition exists here in the fact that the semblance to reality of the fantasmagorical pictures in the dreams of people who have suffered the loss of one or more senses is increased in comparison with persons who are in possession of all their senses.

EDITOR NEEDHAM, G. O. P. WARRIOR, IS AGAINST CODE

Bloomfield Publisher Says Party Endorsement Will Cost Many Votes.

People Determined to Wipe Out Army Of Inspectors And Tax Suckers.

More republican newspaper publishers of Nebraska are being heard from in expressions of revolt against being hitched up to Governor McKelvie's code chariot and compelled to pull it over rough political highways in this year's campaign.

M. A. Brown of the Kearney Hub gave notice, before the state convention met and put its O K stamp on the code law that such action would invite disastrous defeat. Now comes W. H. Needham editor of the Bloomfield Monitor, declaring that it will cost the republican ticket thousands of votes.

The protest of Editor Needham is particularly significant because it emanates from the senatorial district represented in the last two legislatures by C. H. Randall, republican nominee for governor, who was the head and front of Governor McKelvie's legislative organization and who did as much as any other one man to force the passage of the code law in 1919, the revenue law in 1921 and other administration measures in both sessions.

For forty years the Bloomfield editor has fought the battles of his party. In Knox county and northeastern Nebraska no one has been a more consistent and aggressive supporter of g o p principles and candidates than he.

Draws Line at "McKelvieism."

While Mr Needham proclaims himself still a republican and says he expects to vote the republican ticket, he asserts that 'McKelvieism and republicanism" are separate and distinct from one another, and that a majority of the members of the party does not favor the code law.

Needham's editorial on the subject was taken after the Knox county republican convention had endorsed the code, but before the state convention met. It was published, however, two days after the state convention with a paragraph appended stating that the editor had in no way changed his opinion by reason of the action taken by that body.

This revolt against bureaucratic government and high taxes within the legislative bailiwick of the republican gubernatorial candidate, who helped to establish the McKelvie system of government and stands for its continuance seems to portend serious trouble for the management of the g o p state campaign.

Candidates on the state ticket for offices below governor, and also the nominees for United States senator and for congress in the different districts, are exceedingly anxious to keep the code issue in the background. They are also insistent on getting someone for state chairman who is not under the control of the McKelvie-Randall combination.

Needham's Views on the Code.

Following is what Editor Needham has to say upon the subject in the last issue of the Bloomfield Monitor:

"The Monitor noted that 'We the delegates at the republican convention held in the village of Center Knox county, Nebraska, on the 8th day of August, 1922, do hereby endorse the code bill of the state of Nebraska as it now appears on the statute book, save and except there might be a few minor beneficial corrections made therein.'

"That the delegates to the recent republican county convention passed the above resolution, by no means signifies that the republicans of Knox county as a whole endorse their action.

"If Mr Steel of Creighton Mr Iluden of Crofton, and Mr Harrison of Verdigre, who drafted these resolutions had had their ears a little closer to the ground and the convention which adopted them had been diligent students of the trend of the times and had been attentive to the cry of distress coming up from all over our county and state over the burdensome taxation which is directly attributable to the Nebraska code law, we doubt very much whether that law would have had such a sweeping commendation from that convention.

Endorsement a Grave Handicap.

"Although we realize that all of the power of the present state administration will be brought to bear on the coming state convention, as it has been brought to bear on our county conventions, for an unequivocal endorsement of this law, we gravely doubt whether the convention of republicans which meets at Lincoln on August 15th will have the nerve to put it across in the face of thousands of protesting republican voters all over this state.

"In this state convention the platform and resolutions will be dictated in the main by the candidates on the ticket from the governor down and we can hardly believe that they will care to go into the race handicapped by an unqualified endorsement of the McKelvie code law, when they must know that such a handicap would cost them thousands of votes.

"The adoption of this endorsement of the code law by the county republican convention, at the very best was a very unwise act. Since its publication we have heard hundreds of protestations and most of them from republican voters.

Bureaucracy Runs Rampant.

"The taxpayers of Knox county and of the state are tired—deadly tired of putting up exorbitant taxes to support an army of inspectors and commissions which are costing them at present a thousand dollars a day for salary alone. We have bed sheet inspectors, scale inspectors, cream inspectors, oil inspectors, bank inspectors, treasury inspectors, fire commissions, railway commissions and a dozen or fifteen other commission leeches fastened on to our body politic whose main duty is to draw a good big salary and look wise, under the fool guise of enforcing the hundred and one fool laws placed on our statute books by the body of incompetents who usually call themselves a legislature.

"Instead of more incompetent laws more inspectors and more commissions to enforce those laws, Nebraska needs a legislature or two of good competnet material to go down to Lincoln and wipe off bunk laws, bunk commissions, bunk inspectors and a valuable start could be made by wiping off the bunk code law and placing the state government back in the hands of the people where it belongs.

Voters Won't Swallow It.

"The editor of this paper is a republican and expects to vote, as always, a republican ticket; but wishes to warn those in charge of the policy of that party that McKelvieism and republicanism are two separate and distinct issues and that the majority of the voters of the party are not, by any means, being hoodwinked or bamboozled into an endorsement of the McKelvie code law by the simple passage of a damphool convention resolution to that effect.

"In view of the fact that this article does not go to press until two days after the state convetnon meets, in no way interferes with our candidly expressed opinion in general, on the merits or demerits of the infamous code law. The Nebraska taxpayer will one of these days get into the saddle and when he does a lot of the barnacles fastened onto his pocket book through the workings of the code system will be rubbed off."

Farmers Union To Stage Contests During the Far

The Nebraska Farmers' union will put on three contests at its headquarters on the state fair grounds fair week. These contests will be as follows. Tuesday the best Farmers' Union solo by a boy or girl under sixteen years of age, Wednesday, the best chorus by members of one Farmers' Union local open to persons of all ages, Thursday, best speech by boy or girl under sixteen years of age giving the three best reasons for organizing agriculture according to the principles and purposes of the Farmers' union. These contests will occur at 3 p m each day. Cash prizes will be paid to the winners.

CHAPTER 726.

"Of course if you are not able to come to the party there's nothing more to be said, except that I regret it exceedingly," said Ralph Lacy bringing out his words slowly, as if he were forcing himself to stop and weigh each before he spoke it.

"I'm sorry, too," I repeated, wondering how much more I could say without involving the generous man in the coil poor Betty is creating.

Suddenly Ralph Lacy turned and faced me with a set purpose on his face.

"You're in trouble," he declared. "Something has come up that bothers you. You aren't willing to say a word for fear of spoiling my—our evening. That's what you'd do. But that isn't quite the way to treat a—pal, is it? There must be something I can do to help. Will you let me serve? There's nothing—absolutely nothing I wouldn't do for you."

"I believe that," I replied quietly, deciding there was no reason to withhold the truth. "And I know you will understand my wanting to do anything in my power for a friend of mine who's in need. No one else in the theatre party knows her—and I don't like theidea of blurting out the story of someone else's grief and unhappiness. But it's poor Betty Winston."

"Please" Mr Lacy stopped me with a smile at once very grave and very sweet. "You needn't tell me anything you think unfair to your friend. Poor Mrs Winston has come back from far away—and has turned to you. That's itsn 'tit' rrr"

"Yes," I replied my heart warmed by his understanding and delicacy.

"May I ask one question?" he ventured quietly.

"Mr Lacy—of course!" I exclaimed.

"Then—is there something I can do for your friend? Is there any way I can serve? I knew the other night that she meant a great deal to you. So—I don't feel like an outsider—quite!"

He spoke eagerly and yet with a sturdiness back of his nervous tension. I had a feeling that if Ralph Lacy were standing by Betty Tony would be free to go to Carlotta and his happiness. But I had no proof that Betty would welcome any one new—indeed, I was not sure that any one save just I, myself, could serve poor distraught Betty now. So I shook my head slowly and regretfully.

"She counts on me. Coming to me is the first decisive step. Her Terry was snuffed out in a minute, you know after they were years coming to the point of taking their happiness together. She's come back to try to take up the broken pieces of her life. Everyone has wanted to help. At first—no one could get any reaction from her. Now, as I was telling you she has found it possible to reach out to someone. She isn't just gone—as she was the other night."

"Thank you for telling me this," said Ralph Lacy gravely. "I feel that you've done me a great honor. And I believe you realize that anything Mrs Winston would permit me to do—would seem also an honor"—

"Mr Norreys," announced Bertha from the doorway.

My heart lost a beat. I'd felt certain that Tony and Carlotta were off by now. In the moment before Tony followed the announcement of his name I whispered.

"Follow my lead. I'll have to pretend we're going out"—

Then with this brief preparation to insure Carlotta her evening and her chance, I went forward to meet Tony. Gripping his hand with a little extra warmth because I hated the idea of being in league to deceive him, even to keep my word to Carlotta, I said with assumed buoyancy.

"Good evening Tony Norreys. Here's a chance for you to have a reunion with your friend, Ralph Lacy."

The two men shook hands with a warmth that was not assumed or accented for any set purpose.

"Great to see you again. But what happened to our lunch. One of us was threatening to rout the other out wasn't he?" cried Tony.

"Think we'd better tie up for tomorrow," replied Ralph Lacy, with equal friendliness.

"It's sighed and sealed," laughed Tony. "Do we stag it the first time to arouse a little envy and then after we've boasted of our fine masculine confab, do we take—some girls along next time?"

"You said it!" returned Mr. Lacy, grinning in the fashion most reminiscent of Neal. "Mrs. Harrison and—"

"Who said what?" gasped Carlotta from the doorway. "Good evening. Have I kept you long?"

"Good evening, I wouldn't dare say so," replied Tony with a chuckle.

As I was presenting Mr. Lacy to Carlotta, her eyes roamed from his face to mine with pleading expression that told me what I'd known even without her haste to meet Tony and her nervousness at sight of us waiting with him. She was in actual terror lest we turn her duet into a quartette, or in some other way interfere with her evening. So quickly, for fear she'd defeat her own purpose by a too great eagerness I blurted out:

"Don't ask us to join you. We'd have to refuse, wouldn't we Mr Lacy? It happens that a friend of Mr. Lacy's is giving a theatre party tonight."

"It so happens," said Ralph Lacy gravely.

"I call it a shame, don't you, Carlotta?" asked Tony with a disappointed air which I fancied was making poor Carlotta writhe. "I've an idea that we four could have a bang-up celebration."

"You talk as if you and Mr Lacy were old friends," Carlotta cried nervously.

"We are. We met once before—the night I brought Betty to Anne for help," replied Tony, in the deep steady voice that writes itself so definitely on the consciousness of whoever hears. "I was sorry you weren't here, Carlotta, and yet glad, too. Anne knew how to baby Betty, and Betty didn't mind letting down, slumping completely before Anne. Another woman—especially you, of whom she's heard so much—might have made her feel forced to something like putting her best foot foremost."

"I see," gasped Carlotta, then flinging her head back, she said slowly and carefully. "Shall we start?"

As if to make up for her lapse from perfect poise and good manners, Tony asked quietly.

"Can't we drop you folks somewhere?"

"I've a taxi waiting," murmured Ralph Lacy.

"Won't you dismiss it?" insisted Tony, with no further intent than to be cordial. "My car is there—with Lyons, Anne. Isn't that an extra temptation to let us take you to your destination?"

"And now," I thought miserably, "The fat's in the fire. We can't refuse. We can't accept. In a minute Tony will crumple up the whole tissue of facts."

I sent a desperate glance to Ralph Lacy. There was no way out that I could see. I wondered if he could still savethe day for Carlotta.

Unless the police department of Kansas City Kas "restored order" within twenty-four hours, Kansas national guardsmen will be sent to the railroad shops there, Governor Henry J Allen has stated.

A unique plan for helping elderly people to care for themselves through the establishment of a great cottage colony is planned. The site is about fourteen miles south of Jacksonville Fla.

The giant seaplane Sampaio Correa, Lieut Walter Hinton, commanding flying from New York to Brazil encountered heavy squalls on her trip down the coast from Charleston, S C yesterday.

The drive in the mountains north of Dundalk is being steadily pushed by a large force of nationals operating from several directions.

Increased Interest In Sunday Bathing At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 21.—Bathing took on an added attraction here over the week-end, due, it is said, to the fact that county detectives emptied 1,400 gallons of whisky into the ocean. But the feature of the story is this:

When the still was seized, it was found to contain an appliance which would "age" whisky six years in twenty-four hours.

NEBRASKA IMPROVEMENTS

Newman Grove is going to spend $47,000 for new paving.

Anselmo plans to spend $5,500 for water work extension.

Schuyler is to have a new park which will be equipped for a model play ground.

Manager Person of the Harvard electric plants has installed a new oil burning unit.

With the opening of the new electric plant at Culbertson the patrons are assured of all day service.

Electricity will be used for power and heat in a big hatchery that is being erected at St. Paul.

The electric company is pumping the city water at Scottsbluff at a saving to the city of $200 monthly.

Paving extensions are going on at Plattsmouth, Kearney and Fremont, and the prices are materially reduced over the charges made two years or a year ago.

The McCool Electric company has been given an extended rate for a period of a year and in return the company will install two new engines to care for the growing demands of the city for light and power.

The engineer estimated that it would cost $38,000 for a sewer system at Hooper, but the contract has been let for $27,425. The village will also spend $10,000 on water works extensions.

GIBBONS-SCHMADER POST FORFEITS CLINCHING BOUT SEPT. 6

TOMMY GIBBONS PUTS UP FORFEIT

Famous Fighting Man of St. Paul to Show Goods In Lincoln, Sept. 6.. Minnesota Battler Matched to Mix With Andy Schmader at Landis Field.

The Tommy Gibbons-Andy Schmader light-heavyweight glove rumpus, scheduled for Wednesday night, Sept. 6, in Lincoln, became a positive fixture today on the arrival of the signed contracts of both fighters, plus the required forfeit money. Gibbons has forwarded $500 as a guarantee that he will be in Lincoln to display his line of fistic merchandise, while the Schmader forfeit of $300 makes sure that the former navy champion will be present to tangle with the renowned St. Paul scrapper in the main event of the program.

Clinching of the Gibbons-Schmader rookus means that Lincoln, during State fair week, will be the scene of a pretentious fistic attraction. The Nebraska National Guard company of Lincoln, promoter and sponsor of the affair, has arranged for the use of Landis Field and the ring in which Gibbons, Schmader and the other glove whirlers on the program will perform is to be erected at the home plate in front of the grandstand.

Charley Moon, secretary of the Lincoln ball club, has been appointed matchmaker for the National Guardsmen and announced today that he will get busy in lining up a program for Sept. 6. At least three bouts will be down on the card. Preliminary negotiations indicate that Bat. Strayer, lightweight, and Ted Gartin, welterweight, local boys who rate as the top-notchers in their weight divisions in Nebraska, will be given the opportunity to perform against opponents of proved ability, while Kid Springer, local bantam, also may be on the bill.

LOOKING AHED TO NEXT SEASON

Flag Chasers Already Laying Plans to Cop Gonfalon In 1923 Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Late in August when it's fairly well decided what's what in the pennant races, most of the big time pilots start looking ahead to the next season.

Most of any of the managers will admit now that this is the year for New York or St. Louis, but a half-dozen of them are predicting—"Next year is ours."

Ty Cobb frankly admits that he expects to win the American league pennant in 1923 and a glance over the Tiger outfit gives him good reason to be optimistic. Detroit has a good looking ball club now and coming up next year they have Manush, a .357 hitter from the Omaha Western league club; Fothergill, a .400 hitting outfielder from the International league, and Grantham, a yong thirdbaseman at Omaha who has been sticking around .357. The Tigers also are said to have landed the first crack at Boley, the Baltimore shortstop.

Kid Gleason with a rebuilt team of Chicago White Sox will grant no ground in the 1923 race. Gleason pulled the biggest surprise of the season this year with his hustling fighting ball club and if Willie Kamm the San Francisco third baseman, and Stuby Mack, the Seattle pitcher, deliver according to expectations, the Sox are bound to be up in the race. Gleason is after Jack Bentley, the Baltimore first baseman and from the way Comiskey has been spending money for players this year, some club will have to bid mighty high to get him away from thme Sox.

The Cincinnati Reds looks like a strong contender in the Nationol league race. Pat Moran has built up a hustling young team and in Donahue and Couch he has two of the most promising pitchers in the league. The absence of Roush hurt the Reds this year, but there is reason to believe that he will not be with the club this spring.

To make any kind of a showing in 1923, John McGraw will have to get some new pitchers for the Giants. It's about a ten to one bet that Eddie Roush will be playing in centerfield next year at the Polo grounds, but even with a great outfield and a fine infield, the Giants will have to be stronger in the box.

If the St. Louis Cards do not win the pennant this season, there is no reason why they should manage to get through next year and the same hold good for the Browns in the American league.

What the Yanks do in the next race depends in large part on what success Babe Ruth has in coming back and on what luck the all-star pitching staff has in getting away better in the early season. Hot tips have it that Eddie Collins will be at the helm next year but while there is a good chance that Miller Huggins will lose his job if the Yanks fail to win this year, the Collins rumor seems a little wild.

Every year Connie Mack promises something better the next time, but the Athletics have become such a chronic disappointment that the best Philadelphia expects of them now is to dodge the cellar.

Both Boston clubs, both Philadelphia clubs, Brooklyn and Clesleland will have to build their outfits over completely during the winter months to prove any kind of a contendor in their next race.

The winter season promises to be one of the busiest in years as there is a strong possibility that legislaton will be enacted after the close of the season to prevent sales and big trades after the opening of the pennant season.

The Munson Drive-Yourselfs won the Commercial league pennant for the 1922 season Sunday afternoon by defeating the Lincoln Telephones, 8 to 3, in the feature game of a double bill at Landis Field. The victory was the sixth of the season for the Drive-yourselfs and enabled them to close the league season without a defeat.

The game was a pitchers battle between O'Dell of the Hello-boys and Keiser of the Munsons. Both pitchers struck out fifteen batters.

Keiser had the better of the argument. He allowed but five hits sending the Telephones back in six frames without a bingle.

The Telephones grabbed a two run lead by bunching three bingles in the second stanza. The Munson trailed along until the seventh when they got to O'Dell's offerings for four scores. The Telephones then ascended and allowed four runners to cross the plate in the two remaining frames.

Lawlors Win Game.

The Lawlor Sports came from behind in the ninth inning to defeat the Lincoln Sporting Goods nine, 6 to 4, in the opening game of the Landis program. Gerlach, Lincoln Sports catcher, split two fingers in the third inning and was replaced by Maser, Munson receiver.

A base hit by Collard off Wiederspan's glove scored the tying and the winning run for the Lawlors.

Printers Take Two.

The Printers chalked up a double victory at Rock Island Park. The Typesetters defeated the Bracelens, 9 to 3 and turned back the Armstrong Clothiers, 19 to 3 in a pair of seven-inning contests. Lloyd hurled both games for the Printers and allowed but eleven hits.

The Eagles disposed of the Modern Woodmen 969 in the curtain-raiser, 7 to 4. The official scores:

Touching the Bases.

With true kingly gestures, the esteemed Babe Ruth lifter two home runs into the right field stands at the Polo Grounds. The second came in the ninth with Witt and Dugan on the bags, winning the game from Faber and the White Sox, 7 to 5. The merry villagers, who now razz not, neither do they knock, carried the hero from the field.

The Cardinals overcame a four-run lead in flailing three Phil pitchers for a 9 to 6 victory. Pertica and Barefoot were elbowed from the premises in short order, but the Phils could do nothing with Jeff Pfeffer.

Daniel Boone hit the trail against the Senators and smote a single with two out in the twelfth, winning his own game. He also fanned Walter Johnson in a pinch.

With bottles filling the air, the Giants pulled out a victory over the Cubs. A four-run rally in the seventh precipitated by Smith's homer, won the game.

Just to show that they have nothing up their sleeves, the Dodgers blythely tossed off both games to the Reds, the Moran entry sweeping the series. George Burns, Giant refugee, made nine hits, stole five bases and scored seven runs during the three-game series.

FRIEND TEAM WINS DIAMOND TOURNEY

Trims Geneva In Final Game; Milford Takes Consolation From Seward Club.

FRIEND, Neb., Aug. 21—Friend and Milford were the winners of the final tournament doubleheader here Sunday, Milford winning the consolation prize by trimming Seward, 11 to 7, and Friend trouncing Geneva, 11 to 5, and annexing first prize in the tourney.

Milford's sluggers pounded Morrisette of Seward for seventeen hits. The crack Seward pitcher was given flawless support, but could not halt the Milford offensive. The renowned Claud Hendrix, on the slab for Milford, was warmed for fourteen blows.

Friend peeled off four runs in the first inning of its game with Geneva. Geneva tied up the score in the third, after which Friend let loose another drive of three runs, going ahead and staying in front to the finish.

Two thousand fans witnessed the two games, which were umpired by George Segrist, owner of the Fairbury State league club and former Western league arbitrator. The scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Milford ....000 030 332—11 17 1
Seward ....401 000 002— 7 14 0

Batteries — Hendrix and Claire: Morrisette and Schaumberg. Struck out—By Hendix 9, by Morrisette 8.

Second game— R. H. E.
Friend ....400 303 010—11 14 2
Geneva ....022 000 001— 5 8 2

Batteries — Walker and Murphy; Berlwin; Eller, Williford and Neitzel. Struck out—By Walker, 8, by Eller 2, by Williford 4.

BABE'S BLUDGEON MIGHTY AS EVER

Bambino's Bat Has Knocked Last Three Games Into Yankees' Hopper.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Babe Ruth's home runs, especially the last four, have been blows of salvation for the Yankees.

The first of the four on last Friday won a much needed game in the tenth inning and put the Yanks in a tie for first place. The second last Saturday helped the Yanks to the victory that put them in undisputed possession of the leadership and the third and fourth, knocked yesterday, accounted for five runs. The fourth, coming in the ninth inning with two on bases, won the game.

Babe's season total now is 26, six behind Ken Williams of the Browns. In all his big league career Babe has knocked 188 home runs.

And his bat goes knocking on.

Yanks Full Game In Front.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The New York Americans, carried to a 7 to 5 victory over Chicago by Babe Ruth's twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth home runs, today led by a full game the St. Louis Browns, who were idle Sunday.

The Giants retained their three and a half game margin over the Cardinals, winning from the Cubs, 5 to 4, by virtue of a seventh-inning batting rally.

DULL DAYS AHEAD FOR GOTHAM FANS

Not a Scrap of First Rank on Labor Day Card In Region of New York.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The business of proving that self-defense is not only a plea but an art, as one a period of unwonted depression in this hitherto lusrative field. There has not been a bout of any consequence hereabouts since Leonard and Trendler said it with uppercuts. There does not appear to be one in immediate prospect.

The golden harvest moon usually shines most brightly on the eve of Labor day. It is then that the benign promoter sits down and begins to count his customers. But there are no real bouts scheduled for Labor day and probably there will be none.

"Tex" Not in the Picture

Visionary discussion of a Dempsey-Brennan or a Dempsey-Wills fight has died down to an inaudible whisper. These enterprises have just ceased to be. Likewise, the proposition that would bring Leonard and Charlie White together. Even the good Ike Dorgan, who is Mr. Rickard's publicist, has become most austere and reticent.

The affair between Harry Wills and Tut Jackson, negro gentlemen, would have been an ideal holiday attraction. But Dave Driscoll, matchmaker for Ebbets field, scheduled the bout for the evening of Aug. 29, under the erroneous impression that Mr. Rickard was about to lure all the merry customers to Jersey City with a Labor day card of great merit and distinction.

Dempsey Heads for Coast

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Jack Dempsey, wth nothing much to do right now, since his scheduled ten-round bout with Bill Brennan at Michigan City, Ind., on Labor day was stopped by Gevernor McCray, wil leave this city tonight for Los Angeles with Johnny Dempsey and Joe Benjamin, brother and sparring partner, respectively.

Jack will visit his mother and friends on the coast and will then hop here to see what Jack Kearns, his manager, has cooked up in the line of "unfinished business."

'Tis said Dempsey may meet Brennan Labor day in Buffalo, but a meeting with Harry Wills the negro will not come up until next year. An eastern battle with Harry Greb and a meeting with Tommy Gibbons also loom on Dempsey's horizon.

Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons, whose plans for a big Labor day were all shot to pieces by the Governor's action, was busy today lining up a program of boxing talent to substitute for the Dempsey-Brennan match.

Legionnaires Lose Game to Syracuse

(Special to The Star.)

SYRACUSE, Neb., Aug. 21.—The American Legion team of Lincoln gave Syracuse an argument for three innings yesterday, but a string of passes by Pitcher W. Franklin and bunched errors on the part of the Legionnaires made victory easy for the local club, Syracuse winning, 10 to 4. Gardner of Palmyra, covering third for Syracuse, hit for a circuit drive, while Catcher McCloy of the Legion poled a three-sacker.

Score by innings: R. H. E
Legion .. 1 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 0— 4 4 6

The Syracuse tournament will get under way Wednesday, Aug. 23 and continue three days. The Tecumseh, Weeping Water, Palmyra and Syracuse teams will compete.

LINCOLN DUBS TWO TO BEATRICE CLUB

Buck's Baffled By Bowman in First, and Lost Second On Distressing Fielding.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 21.—Pennant aspirations of the Lincoln club ere sadly crimped here Sunday when the Blues bagged both ends of the double bill, 4 to 1 and 7 to 6. Bowman's three-hit pitching performance was the feature of the curtain-raiser. The Links did not score until the ninth. Stokes shut out the Blues in every inning with the exception of the sixth, four scores going over on bunched hits and two Lincoln errors.

A blowup of the Lincoln defensive in the eighth inning gave the second game away, after the Links had pounded out six runs on tow batting rallies and were leading, 6 to 4. Five ghastly fielding blunders—two by Dye, two by Conkey and one by Spranger—netted the Blues three runs and victory. The scores:

Golfer Killed By Bolt of Lightning

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 21.—Clarence A. Cohn, 42, vice-president of a department store here, was instantly killed Thursday afternoon when struck by lightning while playing on the golf links of the Salt Lake Country club. Mr. Cohn was struck in the head, the bolt tearing off the right side of his face. Two players crossing the links in company with Mr. Cohn were knocked unconscious. A caddy was knocked down, but not seriously hurt.

BABE AGAIN IDOL OF FICKLE FANS

Gotham Booed Him Few Weeks Ago; Yesterday Carried Him From Field.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A dramatic home run by Babe Ruth in the ninth, with Witt and Dugan on base, enabled the New York Americans to make it three straight from Chicago by a score of 7 to 5. Ruth had a day of ups and downs. In the first inning he hit a home run with Dugan on base, but handed back two runs when his muff enabled Falk and McClellan to score. Ruth struck out in the third and beat out a bunt in the fifth, only to be caught napping. His second home run in the ninth won the game for New York. At the end of the game, a crowd surged on the field and carried Ruth off the field on its shoulders. Ruth has made four home runs in the last three days and has advanced to twenty-six. First Honors to Women Athletes of England at Paris

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 21.—English women athletes yesterday won the first international women's track meet over competitors from the United States, France, Switzerland and Czecho-Slovakia.

The American team was second, France third, Czecho-Slovakia fourth and Switzerland fifth.

The point scores were: England, 50; United States, 31; France, 29, Czecho-Slovakia, 12, and Switzerland, 6.

A large crowd gathered at Pershing stadium to witness the contests. The American team was leading in the point score when half the events had been finished. Weakness in the sprints was responsible for America's failure to secure first place. Lucille Godbold Estill, South Carolina, and Cornelia Sabie, Newark, N. J. were the star point earners for the American team, the former establishing a world's record in the shot put, putting alternately with both arms, at 20 meters and 22 centimeters, and Miss Sable doing the 100-yard hurdles in the record time of 11 2-5 seconds.

Other records established during the meet were made by Mlle. Mejalikova, Czecho-Slovakia, in the sixty-yard dash of 7 3-5 seconds and the same girl in the second elimination trial heat for the 100-yard dash of 11 2-5 seconds, although the final in this event was won in 12 second flat. The 1,000 meters run was made in 3 minutes, 12 seconds by Mlle Breard, France, and the 440-yard relay in 51 4-5 seconds, made by the British.

GIANTS TRIUMPH IN ODD OF SERIES

World's Champs Win Sunday Game at Chicago Before Record Crowd.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—New York made it two out of three from Chicago by winning the final game of the series here yesterday, 5 to 4, before the largest crowd of the season, more than 26,000 persons being present. The three-game series was said to have drawn close to 80,000 persons. The Giants won the game in the seventh inning when O'Farrell permitted a throw from the outfield to get away from him during a rally by the visitors.

Smith started the scoring by cracking a home run over the right field wall. Singles by Scott, Bancroft and Groh gave the Giants another run and when O'Farrell let Barber's throw get away from him, Bancroft scored and Groh went from first to third, scoring a minute later on Meusel's hit. The other Giant run was scored on Bancroft's double, a sacrifice and a single by Meusel. Krug started a Chicago rally in the eighth with a home run. O'Farrell walked and Callaghan batting for Kaufmann, doubled into the crowd and Jonnard relieved Scott. After the next two men had been retired, Terry singled, scoring O'Farrell and Callaghan. Grimes was called out on strikes, ending the rally. Grimes had scored the first run for Chicago by cracking a home run, his eleventh of the season, in the fourth inning. Score by innings: R. H. E.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

A brisk investment demand for the higher grade rail shares, apparently based on the more encouraging outlook of the strike situation, caused a general advance in price in the largely expanded dealings of today's stock market. The extent of the trading is indicated by the fact that approximately three score issues reached their highest prices of the year in the day's turnover. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Apparently anticipating an early settlement of the rail strike, Wall street traders today indulged in another buying demonstration of rail shares at the opening of the stock market. While most gains were of a nominal character, new high records for the years were established by St. Paul common and preferred, Southern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line and New York, Chicago and St. Louis. Peak prices also were established by Pacific Gas and Electric, Allied Chemical, Brown Shoe, Reynolds Tobacco and American Sugar. Domestic oils were in good demand, Marland rising 1½ points with gains of large fractions by Pure Oil and Standard Oil of California. Otis Elevator was up 2 points and gains of 1 point each were made by American Beet Sugar, American Woolen and American Tobacco.

The upward swing gained momentum as the morning progressed, 50 stocks breaking through to new high records for the year before noon. The active inquiry soon extended from rails to high grade public utilities and industrial shares, equipments, steels, food and amusement issues being particularly prominent. Covering of shorts was a strong factor, but the buying orders also gave indications of a renewed investment demand on the part of outside interests. Gains of 2 to 4½ points were made by Jersey Central, Great Northern preferred, Louisville & Nashville, New York, Chicago & St. Louis first preferred, Ann Arbor, Mexican Petroleum, Westinghouse Airbrake, American Locomotive, Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas, Pacific Gas & Electric and Corn Products. Call money opened and renewed at 3¼ per cent.

The upward movement assumed large proportions and proceeded at a faster pace as the list began to respond to the larger influx of outside orders. High priced shares continued to be the most fancied with the railroad, equipment and gas issues showing considerable buoyancy. American Car advanced 6 points, Great Northern, preferred, 4½, Chicago, Northwestern and Mexican Petroleum, Rutland, preferred, 4¾, Pacific Gas and Electric 3½ and Standard Oil of California; Canadian Northern Pacific, American Woolen, Delaware & Hudson, Baldwin Locomotive Railway Steel Spring 2 or more.

Traders showed little inclination to remain uncovered in the final hour, the seasoned stocks by short interests. Shares of coal and grain carrying railroads, oils and tobaccos were all marked up in the final hour. The closing was strong.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 21.

WHEAT—Extreme weakness at Liverpool was reflected in the wheat market here today and caused a decline in values during the early dealings. All deliveries went to a new low for the season, the December touching a dollar. Support came mainly from shorts while some stop loss orders were caught on the way down. Receipts of wheat today were estimated at 456,000 bushels. Sales of 400,000 bushels of wheat were made to the seaboard last Saturday and early today with more business in sight. The opening, which varied from ⅛ to 1⅝c decline, with September 97¾@98c and December $1.00@1.00¼, was followed by a slight general advance all around.

Selling by shorts later became general and the market rallied and closed strong, with values showing a net gain of 1¼ to 1¾ with September $1.00⅞ to $1.01 and December $1.02⅝ to $1.02½.

CORN—Corn was weak in sympathy with wheat and on better weather conditions over part of the belt. The opening, which was ⅛ to ½c lower, with September 58⅛@58½c, was followed by a moderate general rise on all deliveries.

Corn later showed remarkable resistance to selling pressure and closed firm, the finish being up ¼ to ¾c with September 59⅛c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c off with September 30½c, and held near the initial range.

PROVISIONS—Weakness in grains was reflected in provisions.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

SUGAR—The early raw sugar market was quiet and rather easy, without sales. Spot sugar was offered at 5.15c, the basis of the last previous sale, but without attracting buyers who limited their bids to 5.11c.

Raw sugar futures acted firm on buying by trade houses which absorbed the offerings of Wall street interests and the market at midday was about 1 to 2 points net higher.

Refined was dull and unchanged, 6.75@7.00c for fine granulated.

Refined sugar futures nominal.

Futures closed steady; approximate sales, 62,400 tons, October, 3.54c; December, 3.65c; March, 3.37c; May, $3.48c.

GRAIN MARKETS

Further small losses occurred in the prices of wheat for future delivery last week, the market continuing the decline that has been under way with no important rallies since the middle of July. All deliveries reached new low levels for the season and the Kansas City September price at one time was down to 92 cents, equal to the low level made by the July delivery last January, the lowest price for any future delivery here since the war. The Chicago September price was under $1. Carlot quotations were somewhat irregular, the better grades advancing slightly and other offerings continuing to sag. A large amount of good milling wheat sold under $1 in Kansas City last week.

A disappointing export and domestic demand, due to the numerous trade uncertainties resulted from the prolonged railroad strike and the impending movement of a big spring wheat crop, was chiefly responsible for the lower trend in prices. In the futures market speculative interest has been at the minimum at a time when there was an extensive hedging pressure. A decrease in receipts at the principal winter markets had no effect on sentiment.

Wheat futures closed yesterday near the low point o the week down 3 to 4 cents for September and 2 to 3 cents for late months. The deferred deliveries generally went to a small premium over the September price.

The market has declined 16 to 17 cents since the middle of July. In this time trade has been exceptionally dull with prices sagging a little from day to day.

A moderate increase in the spring wheat was chiefly responsible for a decline of 3½ to 6½ cents in future prices at Minneapolis. Losses in carlot quotations at that market were larger, 8 to 9 cents. Much of the big premium which spring wheat has maintained over winter wheat for many months has been lost, reflecting the complacent attitude of buyers since a crop 55 million bushels larger than last year's has been assured.

The announcement that plans to market some of the new Canadian crop through a wheat board had been definitely abandoned tended to stabilize the Winnipeg market, prices there showing smaller declines than at other terminals

Strike Restricting Grain Movement.

Reports of car shortages and of other transportation difficulties due to the railroad shopmen's strike, which has now been in progress more than six weeks, were more numerous. Inability of railroads to repair cars has gradually reduced the supply suitable for the movement of grain and shipments have been held up frequently by a lack of motive power. At Kansas City there has been an inadequate number of cars for outbound shipments since the first week of the strike. A car shortage also is reported in parts of the northwest.

The trade situation has been viewed discouragingly for several weeks, due to the transportation handicaps, and the market is not expected to respond to the usual influences until the rail strike is settled. It was generally thought the latter part of the week that a solution of the labor troubles was near.

Diminishing Export Demand.

Export demand for wheat was moderate, sales in all positions amounting to about 6 million bushels, some of which may have been against old orders. Weakness and irregularity in foreign exchange rates, due to failure of the London conference and the unsettled economic conditions in the principal importing countries, appeared to be responsible for the limited demand. Indications that a large Canadian surplus will soon be available also was a factor in the diminishing demand. The Liverpool market showed decided weakness, closing yesterday with losses of 5½ to 8 3-4 cents for the week.

Exports of wheat and flour from the United States and Canada last week, as reported by Bradstreet's, were 7,932,000 bushels, compared with 7,151,000 bushels the preceeding week, and 10,671,000 bushels a year ago.

Shipments of wheat from Argentina last week were small, 1,765,000 bushels, compared with about 2½ million bushels the preceding week, and 546,000 bushels a year ago.

Spring Wheat Movement Starting.

The movement of spring wheat started on a small scale last week and is expected to increase as fast as the car situation will allow. Minneapolis received 1,801 cars, 46 per cent more than in the preceding week and 28 per cent less than a year ago. There was a small increase in the movement to Duluth.

Arrivals of wheat at the five principal markets showed a substantial decrease, the total amounting to 7,054 cars, 15 per cent less than in the preceding week and about 20 per cent less than a year ago. Compared with two years ago there was an increase of 40 per cent. Most of the decrease as at Kansas City and Chicago. This market received 1,773 cars, 528 less than in the week before and 609 less than a year ago.

Canadian Crop Advices Favorable.

Harvesting of the spring wheat crop has extended into the Canadian provinces. Reports regarding quality and yield have been uniformly favorable. Private observers estimate the Canadian crop substantially larger than the last official estimate of 321 million bushels.

In the carlot market demand for moderate offerings was fairly good, mills, elevators and shippers taking moderate quantities. Compared with a week ago, the better grades of hard and dark hard wheat were generally steady to 3 cents higher, while the lower grades and red wheat were barely steady to 3 cents lower.

Receipts at Kansas City were not adequate for requirements and there was a decrease of 54,000 bushels in elevator stocks for the week. The total is 3,263,000 bushels, less than half as much as a year ago.

The visible supply increased a little more than four million bushels last Monday and the total is now 26,596,000 bushels, about 36 per cent smaller than a year ago. A small increase is expected tomorrow.

Hot Weather Strengthens Corn.

High temperatures and lack of rain in some of the eastern states of big production were responsible for extensive buying of corn futures. At one time prices were up 3 to 5 cents, part of which was lost when scattered showers and lower temperatures brought partial relief. The close yesterday showed gains of 1 3-8 to 2½ cents for December and May deliveries, while September showed small irregular changes.

Moderate to heavy showers fell in Nebraska and in scattered parts of the eastern states of big production. In some districts the excessive temperatures which lasted nearly a week caused some damage, but generally the crop is well advanced and only the outlook continues favorable for a yield substantially above 3 million bushels.

Export demand was moderate all week, sales in all positions not exceeding 2½ million bushels. Shipments from the United States were 2,948,000 bushels, slightly less than in the preceding week and about 50 per cent more than a year ago. Shipments from Argentina were small, 1,224,000 bushels.

The principal markets received 1,866 cars of corn last week, a few more than in the preceding week and 41 per cent less than a year ago.

Demand for small carlot offerings was limited, at irregular prices. Compared with a week ago white and mixed corn yesterday were down 1 to 1½ cents and yellow was up about 1 cent.

Oats futures moved narrowly. Closing prices at Kansas City yesterday were down about 1 cent for the week, while the Chicago market as about unchanged.

STOCK MARKETS

Progress in settling labor difficulties and numerous predictions of a broad revival in trade as soon as the movement of freight and the production of coal are nearer normal, were reflected in a continued rise in stocks this week, says the Kansas City Star. The average price of both rail and industrial shares again reached new high levels for the year and in a few cases prices were the highest in nearly two years. Transactions continued well under the million share average daily, but were somewhat larger than in the preceding week.

Sentiment is Optimistic.

Trade in all branches continued to be restricted as a result of the handicaps imposed by the coal and rail strikes, but the future was viewed in a most optimistic manner, as has been the case for many weeks. At no time since the rail strike was called the first of July has sentiment, as reflected by the course of the stock market, been affected to any extent. The labor troubles developed at a time when improvement in trade was in progress and there has been no tendency whatever to change this view. Buying in many lines has been held in check, which appears to be about the only effect of the strike situation.

Earnings of many companies for the first half of the year, published this week, with few exceptions, showed decided improvement which contributed to the better feeling and was responsible for much of the buying of stocks.

Curtailed Production of Steel.

The temporary halt in trade has been felt the strongest in the steel industry, where the coal shortage has cut down production from week to week. The partial settlement of the miners' strike, however, will result in increased supplies soon. The United States Steel corporation operated at 60 per cent of capacity most of this week, compared with 65 to 70 per cent last week.

Decline in Foreign Exchange.

Failure of the allied premiers in conference at London to reach an agreement on German reparations imparted an irregular and weaker tone to foreign exchange rates. The value of marks continued to shrink, the price reaching a new low level of 7½ cents a hundred. A week ago the value was 12½ cents a hundred. The mark has almost ceased to have any commercial significance. The quotation represents sales to speculators, as most business with Germany is on a dollar basis. French exchange was most affected by the continued fall in the mark. Sterling closed today higher than a week ago.

The week's shrinkage in the value of the mark was almost 50 per cent a sensational change, but the small effect produced on international finance indicates that bankers have declined to be caught with much German bills, and the world generally seems prepared to see the slump in the German mark go on until its value reaches the vanishing point and then Germany will be forced to reconstruct its finances on a stable basis.

Resuming Coal Mining.

Bituminous coal miners' strike is now considered practically settled as a result of the agreement reached in Cleveland early in the week. There are certain operators who refuse to entertain the proposals made for the immediate resumption of mining, but a good portion of the operators accepted and the mines are commencing to hum again in many states. It is believed that it will be only a question of time before the remaining operators fall in line. The outlook for a settlement of anthracite strike is still dubious, but with the soft coal situation virtually settled, an agreement with hard coal workers is expected.

Another important development of the week was the conferences held in New York City between representatives of the railroad labor unions and a committee representing the railroad executives. These conferences were called at the request of the labor unions and shows that they are desirous of aiding to bring about a settlement of the shopmen's strike as soon as possible. It is believed here that the labor leaders are beginning to be afmembers of the Big Four brotherhoods in deserting trains and the final acts committed by some of the fected by public resentment of crimattempts to blow up trains and bridges. But it is not alone the strikers who are anxious for a settlement. The railroad executives also are desirous that the troubles be cleared away.

Transfusion of Blood Into New orn Infant

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The first case on record where blood was transfused into the vein of a new born infant were disclosed here today.

The child is the infant son of Prof. W. E. Hewitt of the Watertown high school. He was born under circumstances that caused a great loss of blood. The baby was weakening rapidly when the doctors decided upon a blood transfusion as a last resort and four ounces of blood was taken from the veins of the father. The operation was successful.

FAILS TO REPORT ON PETITION FOR SPECIAL ELECTION

Thirteenth street, D to B; district 513, Thirteenth street D to South. This will complete the pavement from the center of the business section to the penitentiary, state hospital loop and the main roads south.

District 514 was also created, being the vicinity of O to Kleckner court and Thirtieth to Thirty-second. The ordinance creating district 515, which includes streets between South and Garfield was Twenty-seventh to Twenty-ninth was also read the third time and passed.

Sewer district 228, Peach to Plum and Eighth to Park boulevard, was formed by the third reading of the ordinance creating the same as was sewer district 240, Sheldon, Twenty-second to Twenty-third streets and sewer district 241 which is E, F, and G streets between First and West Second. Sewer district 242, which includes the area on Eighth between V and Y streets was also created by ordinance.

A petition for lights on Fortieth street from O to Randolph was received. The deed for the crossing of the Missouri Pacific tracks at North Thirty-fifth street was ready for approval and recommended by the city engineer, who also recommended the payment of the first $5,000 for the completion of that under track crossing.

W. H. King requested permission to build a marquise over the walk at 1126 N street. The ordinance granting the Chicago and North Western a new right of way on Ninth street was ready for passage.

COLD AT SARANAC LAKE.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 21.—This section of the Adriondacks has just passed through the coldest August weather on record. Snow was reported to have fallen at night in some sections of the mountains. There was a frost in the lowlands, but crops are not seriously damaged.

NOTED WRITER DEAD.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 21.—Col. F. S. Woodson for many years on the staff of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, and identified with many papers throughout the state for the last fifty years, died at his home early today. He had been in falling health for some time. He was seventy-four years old, and a native of Virginia.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The area of low pressure noticed there Saturday in this vicinity has moved eastward and covers most of the Mississippi rived with the highest barometer n western Pennsylvania. The northwestern are of low pressure has moved southeastward and extends from Minnesota southwestward and extends from Minnesota southwestward to Kansas. Rain has fallen in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iwa, eastern Nebraska and Missouri. The barometer is low in Idaho and north of Montana and about normal on the Pacific coast.

Tilden-Richards Paired to Play For National Doubles

(Associated Press.)

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Matches of interest were set for the grandstand courts of the Longwood Cricket club at Chestnut Hill today in spite of the seeded draw for the first round of the national doubles lawn tennis championship.

In these featured contests William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, members of the United States Davis cup team, were drawn to meet Zenzo Shimidzu, the Japanese player, and Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y. Manuel Alozno and Count Manuel Degomar, Spanish Davis cup players, will meet Fritz Bastian and Ralph H. Burdick of Indianapolis.

The national boys and national juniors singles and doubles tournament started today.

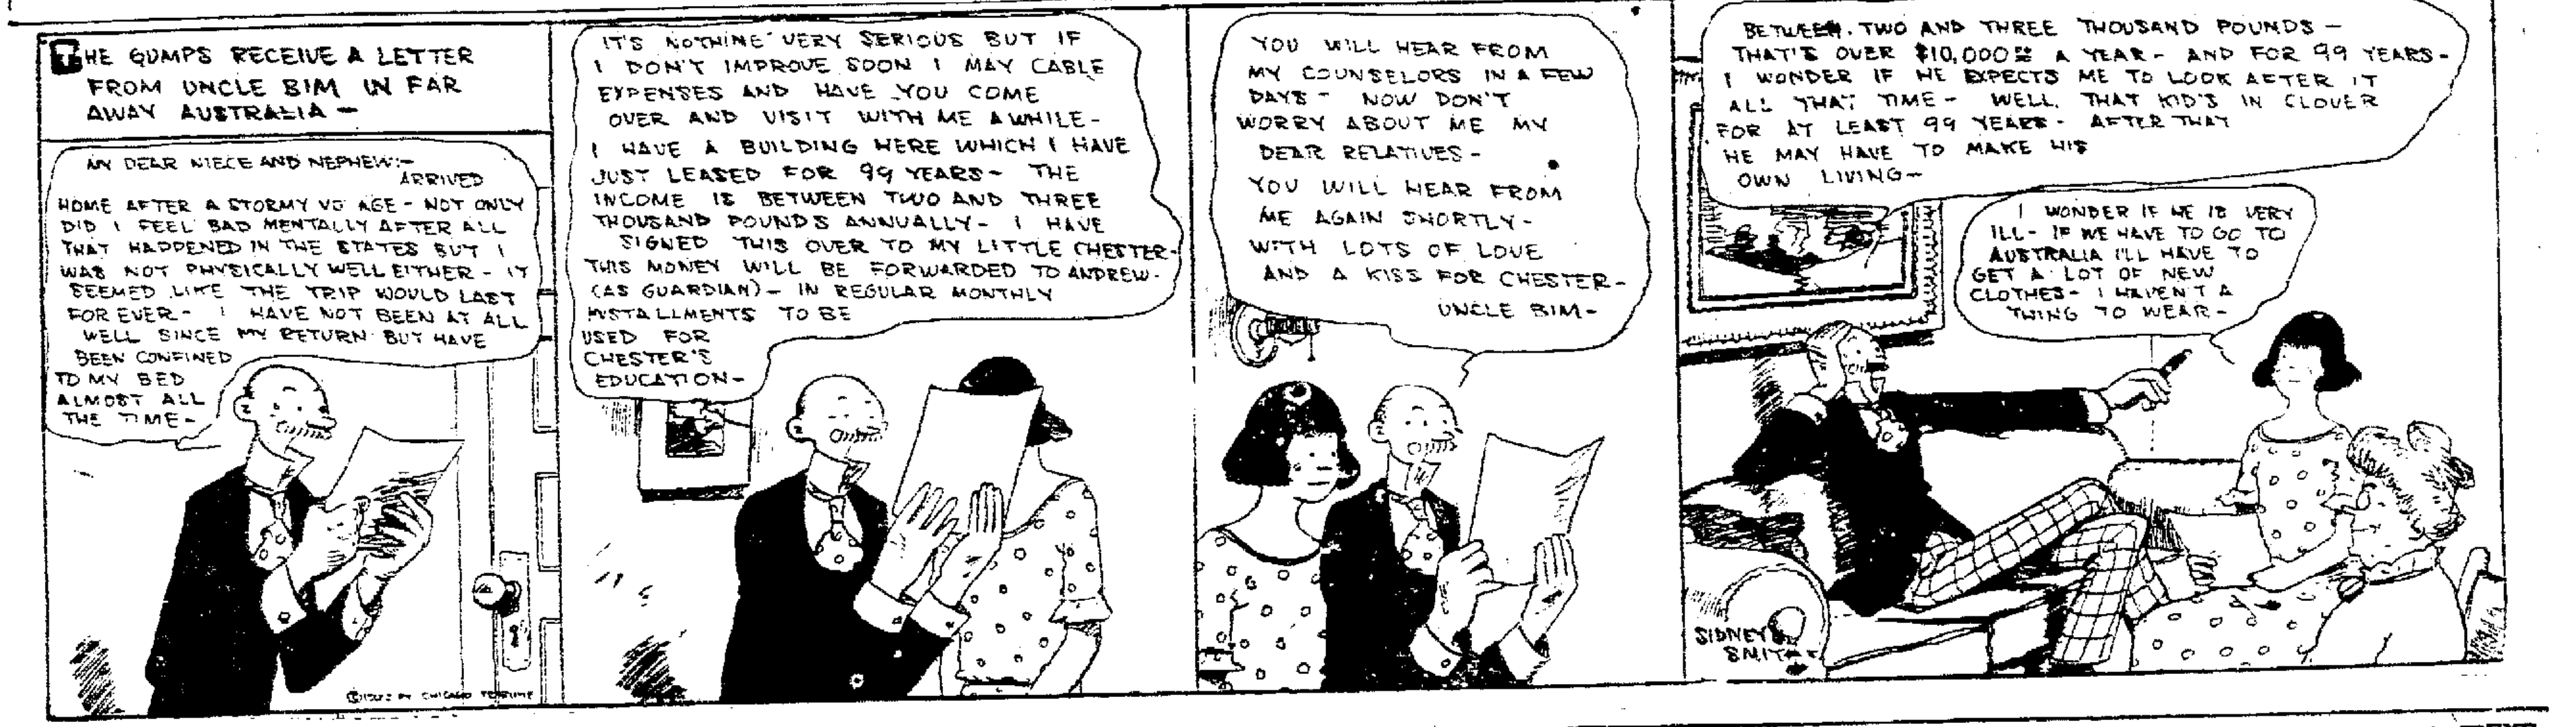
THE GUMPS—FROM FAR AWAY AUSTRALIA



THE GUMPS RECEIVE A LETTER FROM UNCLE BIM IN FAR AWAY AUSTRALIA—
MY DEAR NIECE AND NEPHEW:— ARRIVED HOME AFTER A STORMY VOYAGE - NOT ONLY DID I FEEL BAD MENTALLY AFTER ALL THAT HAPPENED IN THE STATES BUT I WAS NOT PHYSICALLY WELL EITHER - IT SEEMED LIKE THE TRIP WOULD LAST FOREVER - I HAVE NOT BEEN AT ALL WELL SINCE MY RETURN BUT HAVE BEEN CONFINED TO MY BED ALMOST ALL THE TIME—
IT'S NOTHING VERY SERIOUS BUT IF I DON'T IMPROVE SOON I MAY CABLE EXPENSES AND HAVE YOU COME OVER AND VISIT WITH ME AWHILE- I HAVE A BUILDING HERE WHICH I HAVE JUST LEASED FOR 99 YEARS - THE INCOME IS BETWEEN TWO AND THREE THOUSAND POUNDS ANNUALLY - I HAVE SIGNED THIS OVER TO MY LITTLE CHESTER - THIS MONEY WILL BE FORWARDED TO ANDREW - (AS GUARDIAN) - IN REGULAR MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS TO BE USED FOR CHESTER'S EDUCATION—
YOU WILL HEAR FROM MY COUNSELORS IN A FEW DAYS - NOW DON'T WORRY ABOUT ME MY DEAR RELATIVES - YOU WILL HEAR FROM ME AGAIN SHORTLY - WITH LOTS OF LOVE AND A KISS FOR CHESTER - UNCLE BIM—
BETWEEN TWO AND THREE THOUSAND POUNDS - THAT'S OVER $10,000 A YEAR - AND FOR 99 YEARS - I WONDER IF HE EXPECTS ME TO LOOK AFTER IT ALL THAT TIME - WELL, THAT KID'S IN CLOVER FOR AT LEAST 99 YEARS - AFTER THAT HE MAY HAVE TO MAKE HIS OWN LIVING—
I WONDER IF HE IS VERY ILL - IF WE HAVE TO GO TO AUSTRALIA I'LL HAVE TO GET A LOT OF NEW CLOTHES - I HAVEN'T A THING TO WEAR—

MINERVA'S MAIL
Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Like An Iceberg.

Dear Minerva: I am coming to you with a problem that means so much to me and please help me to understand it if you can. I am a girl almost twenty-five years old and my people have always held me down so close that I have never had a chum that I ever felt as though I could talk things over with that I wanted to know. And I never had a boy friend until recently. My father has been dead about eight years and I have helped make a living for mother and myself since. We recently moved in this small town and just have in this small town and I just have and guess I am timid. But mother has rather poisoned my mind about men as I have always been taught that all they wanted was to ruin every girl they were with. She never told me of the finer things of life and when I now go out with a boy friend I am afraid of him even if he doesn't make advances. They all tell me I am just like an iceberg. Now I recently met a boy two years older than myself and have gone with him three or four times but always with another couple along. I think he thought quite a lot of men but when he does try to talk nice and to love me I am afraid and can't think of anything to say back, I do think so much of him or think I do. He asked me one time what was the matter with men and said I had either led a fast life or was older than I looked. What did he mean by that?

I have never been with a boy yet that I cared anything for. Do you think there is something wrong with me. I like this last friend so much and he has seen a lot of life and is a dandy fellow, but I don't feel any special emotion for him. I do so want to know and see something that is worth while in life PEGGY.

A. Don't let it worry you when the boys call you an iceberg and indicate that you are lacking in human warmth just because you do not snuggle up to them upon their third or fourth visit. The standards of the petting party need not be your standards. You do not want to be the kind of a girl that is known as a "good lover" or by some such term among the boys. Better by far have the reputation for coldness and impassivity. Then the boys will know that the man who does win your love and arouse you from your calmness will win something worth while, and not be getting second-hand goods.

For Her Hair.

Dear Minerva: Having been in a rural community for the past year by little puzzle is an up-to-date style of hair dress which I may wear becomingly at college this fall. I am a woman thirty-three, I wish to wear my hair neither severely plain nor fussy. I have red-brown hair, a round face, am slightly stout and can wear my hair mediumly high or low and unparted or parted on either side. I do not look my age by a few years and wear plain nifty styles and very little facial make-up, usually none Respectfully, B M R

A A high hair dress soft but not accentuated about the face, is good this season I would suggest that you part your hair on one side, curl or wave it loosely and draw it up high, covering about half the ears. Then roll it in several soft twists, or make the formal curls if you like them and confine it all in a net. This style is supplanting the French roll in vogue for so long, which has been accompanied by the exaggeration of the puffs over the ears. The ear puffs are no more; they are quite o-u-t at last.

A Concealed Compliment.

Dear Minerva: I have been a constant reader of your Mail for two years, in fact ever since I saw the paper The Lincoln Star.

Minerva my troubles are bothering me and I am afraid to say anything to anybody for fear they will make fun of me. The first one of my trouble is this. Some few weeks ago I met a boy in this town and have been with him several times. Now this boy is a common boy, that is his folks work for a living as do mine. I have been told by another boy that he said he could not have agood time with me. Now Minerva dont you think that a boy that would say that about another boy would have lots of nerve I know I do What should I do? And what would you say? I am a girl 18 years old, weight 136 pounds and am 5 feet, 4 inches tall, have light complexion and medium light hair. How should I dress to make myself look taller and more slender? What colors should I wear?

Now Minerva this is my last year of school. What kind of clothes would you recommend for school this fall? G. C

A. I think you should not be offended at the report which came to you that your boy friend said he "could not have a good time with you." Maybe he said it and maybe he did not. You cannot afford to believe all the gossip repeated to you. And if he did say it, it sounds to me like his way of passing the word along to the other boys that you are not to be trifled with, that you allow no familiarities, are not a mere plaything That is the way of boys, you know They do kiss and tell, and when they find a girl who is not a ready receiver of their caresses they generally mention it in an offhand way, complimentary though seemingly the reverse.

A one-piece dark blue serge or tricotine would be lovely for a school dress for fall. A straight-line model with a bit of embroidery on the skirt and Paisley silk trimming on collar and sleeves would be pretty and give you the desired slenderness of line. This with a silk party dress, coat and the required shoes and hat would be sufficient for a modest school wardrobe.

Where Is Glen?

Dear Minerva: Please put this in the Minerva's Mail. Glen, I have not heard from you since last October Please call me again. F.

TITLED BRITISH WOMAN TAKES UP BUSINESS CAREER

Lady Poynter.

Lady Poynter, wife of Sir Ambrose Poynter, the famous architect, has decided to start in business as a house decorator. She states that her scheme is solidly businesslike and not the whim of a society woman. Not wanting to presume upon her title, she decided to work under the name of "Toucan." She has studied for her business for over two years and is able to prepare estimates and knows where and how to get necessary materials.

Threatens Use of State's Troops If Order Not Restored

KANSAS CITY, Mo, Aug. 21.—Troops will be sent into Kansas City, Kas., unless rail strike disorders there are quelled within twenty-four hours, according to Gov Henry J. Allen, who has arrived here. Immediate reorganization of the police department was begun today to obviate the necessity of sending the troops.

"Every man has the right to work," said Governor Allen, in issuing his edict. "No man should be compelled to skulk from his work down alleys and far streets for fear of being beaten.

"Every man in Kansas has the right of protection, and he will be protected."

There have been a number of disorders in Kansas City, Kas, of late.

Fear Aviators Are Victims of Mishap During a Cyclone

CALCUTTA, India., Aug. 21.—Search was being made today for Captain Norman MacMillan and Captain Mailins, round the world flyers, who have not been heard from since they left here Friday for Rangoon

Shortly after their departure a terrific cyclone came up and it is feared they were compelled to land in some isolated part of the coast.

The round the world flight was formerly in charge of Major W. T. Blake, a British aviator, who set out from London with MacMillan and Mailins on May 24 Blake was taken down with appendicitis at Calcutta and had to undergo an operation. He expects to cross the Pacific by steamship and rejoin the party at Vancouver, B C.

Search Ocean For Seaplane Thought Disabled Sunday

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Seaplanes continued to search the waters surrounding the Fire Island lightship early today for the missing flying boat carrying a pilot, mechanician and one passenger that left here early yesterday for a sightseeing flight to that point and failed to return.

Radio stations broadcast calls to ships both in and outbound to keep a watch for the plane, believed to have suffered some mishap in the vicinity of the lightship. The machine was last sighted crossing over the battery on its way to sea and was due back before noon.

When it failed to appear another flying boat put out and circled the lightship, but was unable to locate the missing craft.

Police Chief and 2 Deputy Sheriffs Are Under Arrest

CORBIN, Ky., Aug. 21.—Friction between local and federal officials in this strike-tense town resulted today in the arrest of Chief of Police John Manning, City Patrolman William Patterson and two deputy sheriff W. H. Baker and J. B Sutton. They were charged with interfering with federal officers.

BUSINESS SESSIONS OPEN.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Business sessions of the 24th annual encampment and reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans and of the national auxiliary, the women's society of the organization, were opened here today

Riot at Meeting of Irish Sympathizers

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Disorder broke out at a meeting of Irish sympathizers last night when criticisms of James Larkins' work on behalf of dock workers in Ireland were attacked from the floor of the theatre.

Larkins, who is out on bail from Sing Sing prison, for his activities during the war, was sitting on a box and he rose to object. He was accused of falsehood. One of his followers struck the accuser, knocking him from his seat. A general riot was only avetred when Larkins leaped from the box to the stage and exhorted the audience to use "reason" and temporarily restored order.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconaut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

Bread is your best food. Eat more of it, and make it with Gooch's Best Flour. Its quality is superfine, and because it makes more loaves per sack Gooch's Best lasts longer and is more economical in the end.

REFORM CHURCH HAS MISSION DAY

All Day Session At Firth Is to Be Held Next Friday.

FIRTH, Neb, Aug. 21.—The annual mission day of the Reformed churches of Firth Holland and Pella, Neb., will be held at Firth on Friday, August 25, in the city park

The exercises will all be in the American language and will commence at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp. Everybody is welcome and requested to be prompt in time, so there will be no delay in the program.

Nobody needs to bring anything to eat nor to drink, as all your bodily wants can be supplied by the stands, which will be operated for the benefit of missions.

Ample time will be set apart for social intercourse and recreation after the afternoon session, but no games are permitted while the program is in process.

In the evening there will be an illustrated lecture with pictures on the screen of missionary work in India.

Free will offerings for the cause of missions will be received at every session. As collectors for the day are appointed the following persons: John Stone, John A Tenhulzen, jr., John Dokter Luke Tenhulzen. All monies received must be handed to J G Lefferdink, of Firth, treasurer.

Pirate Ships On Coast of Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug 21.—Illegal fishing and hunting is being carried on in a large scale along the gulf coast of Mexico by pirate ships, according to a report to the ministry of Ware and Marine.

The principal places of operation are along the coast of Yucatan, Tabasco and Campeche.

The principal game is turtle meat and the tortoise shell and the large white crane from which are secured aigrettes.

Because the illegal hunting and fishing is increasing rapidly, troops stationed along the coast have been ordered to act.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Lieuts. Luard and Duncan were burned to death when their airplane crashed to the ground in flames at Dardoni, British India, said a LaHore today to the Exchange Telegraph company.
